Two Thrillers Are Booked To Open At Lyric Tuesday

"The Face At The Window" And "The Torso Murder Mystery" Are Guaranteed To Provide Shivers, Says Management

The Lyric theatre announces a blood-chilling, sinister program for Tuesday when two quake provokers, "The Face at the Window" and "The Torso Murder Mystery" are provided. Tod Slaughter heads the cast of the former while Bruce Cabot appears in the leading role of the latter film. Showing for the last times Monday are "The Return of Daniel Boone" and Robert Taylor, who has appeared opposite practically 'every popular female star, now makes his first co-starring appearance with Lana Turner in "Johnny Eager." Also of interest is that It presents Taylor in his first characterization as gangster, the story casting him as a shrewd boy raised on the wrong side of the big city.

The Quilna film, "How Green Was My Valley," is the story of a family, the Morgan family, whose imperishable spirit and unwavering loyalties survive disaster and enable them to maintain a stubborn foothold in their ancient home. The cast includes Walter Pidgeon, Maureen O'Hara. Donald Crisp, Anna Lee, young Roddy McDowall, John Loder and Sara Allgood.

Nat Pendleton heads the cast of the Sigma film, "Jail House Blues," in which he appears as a convict who insists on staying in prison long enough to produce a musical show with his bastille Anne Gwynne and Robert Paige supply the romantics. The co-feature, "The Bugle Sounds," a story of aimy camp life, stars Wallace Beery,
