

New Double Feature Set To Open At Sigma On Wednesday

"A Date With The Falcon" And "Treat 'Em Rough" Are Attractions; Movie Version Of Best Seller At Quilna

Revolving about the kidnaping of a prominent scientist who has invented a process of making synthetic diamonds, "A Date With The Falcon," starring George Sanders and Wendy Barrie, commences Wednesday at the Sigma theatre. Also in the cast are James Gleason, Allen Jenkins and Mona Maris. Co-featured will be "Treat 'Em Rough." Showing for the last times Tuesday are "The Bugle Sounds" and "Jail House Blues."

The screen version of Richard Llewellyn's novel, "How Green Was My Valley," is the current Quilna treat, with Walter Pidgeon, Maureen O'Hara, Donald Crisp and Roddy McDowall in the leading roles. The effect of depression of a Welsh mining community, a poignant, dramatic story, the film offers a rare treat in cinema annals.

Robert Taylor and Lana Turner have the starring roles of the Ohio film, "Johnny Eager," the story of a gangster who found the right way to live and love just a little too late. For Taylor the film offers an opportunity to step away from the handsome hero roles that failed to give his dramatic ability full flexibility.

A double horror program is currently offered at the Lyric theatre where "The Torsos Murder Mystery" and "The Face at the Window" provide the thrills. Bruce Cabot has the leading role in the former while Tod Slaughter is the leading performer in the latter film.

William Powell and Myrna Loy head the cast of the State feature, "Shadow of the Thin Man," comedy mystery film adding another triumph to the "Thin Man" series. Co-featured is "Mexican Spiff's Baby," with Lupe Velez and Leon Errol in the leading roles.

"A Date With The Falcon," the current Sigma offering, gets away from the older style of blood-and-thunder detective films by weaving an unusual amount of comedy into the story, and by having its hero a suave and likable human being instead of a heartless thinking machine.

Similarly, the casting noted mirthmakers along with dramatic players, the lighter values of the plot are balanced against its tender moments, thus making for more entertaining film fare. Thus the story deals with The Falcon's search for a noted inventor who, has mysteriously disappeared, but the fact that his fiancée is desperately trying to make him drop the investigation and marry her, leads to many of the comedy sequences.

So, too, the casting of such well-known funsters as James Gleason and Allen Jenkins in important roles adds frequent laughs as the two comics complicate The Falcon's efforts. George Sanders portrays the debonair investigator and Wendy Barrie his impatient bride-to-be in the fast-paced offering.

Two shepherds, over eight, give Celtic atmosphere to Richard Llewellyn's "How Green Was My Valley," the current attraction at the Quilna theatre which was produced by Darryl F. Zanuck.

The older shepherd had to sing out to his sheep and dogs, so Director John Ford got one who could speak and sing in Gaelic. He passed the sheep-herding test with flying colors, and with toothless gums yammered some phrases for the director and Maureen O'Hara, who knows the language.

"How was it?" asked Ford. "It's good he is at singing Gaelic," said Maureen, speaking in the vernacular. "But it's no teeth the poor man has at all to speak it with!"

Walter Pidgeon, Donald Crisp, Anna Lee and Roddy McDowall head the cast of this picturization of Richard Llewellyn's best-selling novel about Welsh miners.

Also in the cast are John Loder, Sara Allgood, Barry Fitzgerald, Patric Knowles and the Welsh Singers. The screen play was faithfully adapted from the novel by Philip Dunne, and the musical score was directed by Alfred Newman. The entire production of "How Green Was My Valley" was under direct supervision of 20th Century-Fox production chief, Darryl F. Zanuck.

"The Face at the Window," which is at the Lyric theatre is no show for the chicken-hearted! Here is a real thriller. Packed with good, old-fashioned hair-raising scenes, this new melodrama is not a masterpiece of subtlety for it delivers its thrill-wallops right to the chin and you'll have to have plenty of "what it takes" to take it. Admittedly a "shocker" of the old school, "The Face at the Window" has gained power and excitement in its modernization and screen treatment and it proves that human emotions can be set a-tingle by the right kind of scary make-believe.

The star of the piece, gruesomely called Tod Slaughter, lives up to his surname and provides a real orgy of mayhem and murder. He's a suave customer and one whose "smooth" tactics hold audiences spell-bound and shaking. The word villain must have the prototype of Tod Slaughter in mind for he is big, bad, and blackhearted. And, his acting leaves nothing to be desired if you're a thrill-seeker.

The story's plot is set in Paris in the late nineteenth century when the entire city is terror-stricken by a series of dastardly crimes by a criminal known only as The Wolf. Despite his sheep's clothing, it won't take you any time at all to recognize Tod Slaughter's true identity but since this picture is not a mystery, this knowledge of the villain will not hamper your complete enjoyment of this Arthur Zichm thrill-packed chiller. George King directed the production and Marjorie Taylor, John Warwick, and Leonard Henry have the leading supporting roles.

ISLAND PAPER RECEIVED HERE

Acopy of the leading Chinese newspaper of the Hawaiian Islands, printed a week before the attack on Pearl Harbor, is in the possession of Miss Annabelle Wilkin, of 614 E. High-st., whose hobby is the collection of old and unique papers.

The publication was received by Mr. and Mrs. Tom Van Over, of 618 E. High-st., from their son, Tom, who is a member of the U. S. Army Air Corps. They gave the copy to Miss Wilkin to add to her collection.

The daily, called The Liberty News, has a few English words scattered about the paper, in addition to the English masthead, which reveals Lum Kan as manager and Fong Song, editor. Nationally advertised products are recognizable in the advertising section.

CONGRESS FINDS BILLION DOLLARS A DAY IN HUGE WAR FINANCING PROGRAM

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3—(AP)—Congress heard news of its first month's work on President Roosevelt's $56,000,000,000 war budget today with every indication that enacted appropriations and authorizations would reach $39,000,000,000 before the week was out. This tremendous total—averaging more than $1,300,000,000 daily—would represent congressional approval within 30 days of an amount equal to nearly three-fourths of the figure fixed by the President in his outline of war expenditures.

Yet despite its record of activity, which includes completing important war powers and price control legislation as well as appropriations, congress appeared to be in for a long and arduous session.

"There is no chance for any vacation or holiday," warned Sen. Hill, (D-Ala.), the Democratic whip. "Congress must be on the alert to act with speed on whatever comes along."

The senate arranged to take up today a $26,495,263,474 naval supply bill, carrying funds for beginning immediate construction of a large share of 60,000 planes and other equipment which the President has urged for this year.

Sponsors predicted the record-breaking measure would be given a final congressional okay speedily. As reported by the senate appropriations committee Saturday it was more than twice as large as the $12,555,372,474 supplemental money bill for the army passed last week and the total of the two is $39,051,137,948.

Previously the house had voted $19,977,965,474 in direct appropriations and contract authority for the Navy, but the senate committee added in excess of $6,000,000,000, largely for additional planes.

With $8,000,000,000 to be provided for new ships, Sen. New, (R-N.D.), an appropriations committee member, said he hoped a large number of small, fast vessels would be built.

PATENT GIVEN TO LIMA MAN ON NEW DEVICE

A copy of the leading Chinese in dredges and water craft, was added Tuesday to the long list of brain-children of John D. Rauch, 840 W. Market-st.

A release from the patent office in Washington said patent examiners ruled Rauch's patent on a reclining spud was different in at least 16 features from any similar invention previously patented. The Lima man's patent, listed as No. 371,439 was issued under an application filed Dec. 23, 1940.

Rauch explained his device was like a folding mast or boom. When used on a floating dredge, it permitted the spud to recline to permit passing under bridges.

The Lima man, who is a consulting engineer, has some 45 inventions to his credit. He said that about 18 devices or mechanical arrangements used in power shovels manufactured by The Lima Locomotive Works, Inc., were perfected by him.

The reclining spud has not been assigned to any firm for manufacture or commercial exploitation, Rauch said.

March Field Will Be Next Stop For Bob Hope Program

U. S. Army Air Corps Base To Be Locale For Broadcast Tuesday; Two Members Of Cabinet Set On Navy Show

March Field, big U. S. Army Corps base will be next stop in Bob Hope's "See Southern California First" tour. Hope will take his cast to the field Tuesday at 10 p. m. over WEAF.

Home is about the only place Hope hasn't been in the past week. Last Tuesday he did his broadcast from the U. S. Naval Training Station at San Diego with a side jaunt to the Consolidated Aircraft plant there. He returned to Hollywood to pick up his mail, then set out again to play in Bing Crosby's golf tournament at Rancho Santa Fe. Back home again for the Sunday night preview of his broadcast, Hope sandwiched in one day of rest before his March Field jaunt.

What the Secretary of the Navy said to the Secretary of the Treasury will be revealed when those two cabinet members appear in person on the new "Meet Your Navy" program, Tuesday, at 8:30 p. m. over WJZ.

It has been hinted, however, that Secretary Knox will say something very complimentary about the Navy, and present Secretary Morgenthau with a check of significant financial proportions, representing the contributions of Navy personnel for defense bonds.

The two cabinet members will speak from Washington. The remainder of the show, originating at Great Lakes Naval Training Station near Chicago, will feature music by commissioned and enlisted personnel of the Navy.

Xavier Cugat introduces his own latest number "Nightingale" on his "Rumba Revue" program over WJZ Tuesday, at 8 p. m. Also on this broadcast, Cugat will revive a tune which, introduced by him some years ago, swept to instant popularity. Title: "Tantum Vendo."

Also in a version of Brahms' "Lullaby" and another Cugat number "The Thrill of an Old Romance" complete the orchestral highlights. Margo, featured vocalist, will be heard in her own Latin-American version of the popular "Week-end in Havana" and Carmen Castilla will sing the beautiful "Amor Amor Amor."

Afro-Cuban singer Miguelito Valdes will do two numbers "Benabé" and "Tabu," both of them swing jungle melodies. Bert Parks, former master of ceremonies, and the Cugat also will be featured.

EIGHT MONTHS SCHOOL FAVORED

Sandusky-co A. S. D. A. War Board Cites Probable Farm Labor Shortage

FREMONT, O., Feb. 3—(AP)—Reduction of the Ohio school year to eight months was recommended today by the Sandusky-co U. S. department of agriculture war board to the state war board.

Pointing to an expected farm labor shortage this year, the local board also opposed starting of classes before next Oct. 1. Planting, harvesting and processing of potatoes, sugar beets and other food crops may be impeded unless remedies for labor shortages are found in this industrial-agricultural area.

The board did not suggest how the state department of education would provide in eight months the 176-180 days of school required by law, but the state board was asked to confer with the state director of education. Members of the Fremont board of education favor adjustments to help relieve farm labor shortages.

Meanwhile, school administrators already are taking steps directed at maximum cooperation with the unions' war effort. The Buckeye High School League last week voted to have league basketball teams meet only once instead of twice during a season and dropped several extra-curricular events.

The league, composed of Fremont Ross, Findlay, Tiffin, Columbus, Fostoria and Bowling Green high schools and Tiffin Junior Order Home, will fulfill present athletic commitments, but limited sports schedules are expected to be set up after 1942.

MOTHER-DON'T SCOLD!

IF YOUR CHILD WON'T EAT MAYBE IT'S NERVES

Don't be too hard on your child if he won't eat. He may be irritable, nervous or fidgety. Maybe he needs B Vitamins added to his diet. B Vitamins are the nerves restorers and they are easily supplied by simply adding LIFE OF WHEAT to cereal, soup, milk or other foods. Two tablespoons of Life of Wheat and 2 glasses of milk a day give a child all the B Vitamins all the calcium, all the phosphorus and one-third of the iron he needs for his body's maintenance.

Life of Wheat is a pre-cooked, stable wheat germ preparation that tastes good and comes ready to eat. Get a package from your grocer. Big 15 oz. package lasts a month.
