Story Of South Sea Isles And Military Film At State

Double Feature Offering "Shadow Of The Thin Man" And "Mexican Spitfire's Baby" End Runs Wednesday

One of those super-superb "South of Tahiti," blazes across the State screen starting Thursday. Also opening at that time is a war-time film, "Swing It Soldier" that extols the virtue of rhythm in the military age. Meanwhile, on view for the last times Wednesday is "Shadow of the Thin Man" and "Mexican Spitfire's Baby." Willie Powell and Myrna Loy are the leads in!

first one. Robert Taylor steps out of his usual roles to make like a tough guy in "Johnny Eager" now showing at the Ohio theatre. That cute bug, Lana Turner, also stars as do Edward Arnold and Van Heflen. As a gangster Taylor puts on a sterling performpicturization of Richard Llewellyn's best selier, "How Green Was My Valley" now shows at the Quilna theatre. It is all about Welsh miners and contains some brave bits of Gaelic singing. Walter Pidgeon and Maureen O'Hara play the stellar roles.

A blood-thinning brace of thrillers haunt the Lyric theatre silversheet for the last times Wednesday. "The Face at the Window," featuring Tod Staughter is an eerie bit of business. The history of a clever friend who left a trail of headless victims in his wake is "Torso Murder Mystery." That versatile gent, Bruce Cabot heads the cast.

That slicker of the shivver movies, George Sanders, appears in 'A Date With the Falcon" opening Wednesday at the Sigma theatre. The plot concerns the kidnaping of a famous inventor. Lots of angles and thrills. Second hit Blain, Dick Alexander, Karl is "Treat 'Em Rough" with Eddie Hackett and the King's Men, pop-Albert and Peggy Moran.

LYRIC loving fighting sea dogs are missteaders invading the range taken for a pair of society saillands of his friends, the cattle-Byrd-Veda Ann Borg, co-starrer, at the Lyric theatre.

Put up in one of the nation's swankiest hotels, with everything "on the house," the boys find life pretty hectic, when the tips expected by bell hops are more than their combined monthly salaries. Further complications arrive when "the general" phony soldier of fortune and sportsmen, contreasure hunt. In order to pay for have you heard about? their share of the treasure hunting expedition, the boys are their comrades in arms, and are then resolutely followed by the sailors who wish to keep an eye on their investment, and inci-dentally on pretty Veda Ann Borg, the general's daughter, and "lure" in the whole scheme.

Ralps Byrd and Harold "Stubby" Kruger are the slap-happy sailors while Herbert Cothrell plays "the general." Others in the cast are Paul Bryar, Val Stanton and Sammy Cohen.
