

George Sanders Due At The State Thursday In New Hit

"The Gay Falcon" Is Title Of Thriller Diller; "Appointment For Love" Will Be Second Film On Bill

George Sanders, fanciest of the crime cornering crew, appears in his latest opus, "The Gay Falcon" which will open Thursday at the State theatre. Sanders attained fame in the Saint series and carries on nicely in this thriller diller.

Also starting Thursday at the State is "Appointment for Love." Meanwhile "Nothing But the Truth," and "Henry Aldrich for President" show for the last times.

The love life of a sports editor and a brilliant feminine newspaper columnist is told in "Woman of the Year" now going on at the Ohio theatre. Katharine Hepburn and Spencer Tracy make smart work of same which involves trying to point out "where woman's place is."

A very dramatic Claudette Colbert is on the Quilna screen in "Remember the Day." Supporting her are John Payne and John Shepperd.

A fresh new bill appears now at the Sigma. It includes "Stick to Your Guns" with that fast and frequent shooter, Hopalong Cassidy. Lovingly to lead at Anne Shirley plays the latter in "Four Jacks and a Jill." Agile Ray Bolger also is in the cast.

Very fast and furious is the action in "The Bride Wore Crutches" currently displayed at the Lyric theatre. The leads are Lynne Roberts and Ted North. For incandescent romance "South of Panama" does the trick.

John Payne is no jutterbug even tho he has a juke box in his new Brentwood home.

John installed the automatic record player just before he started work in "Remember the Day" with Claudette Colbert, the current attraction at the Quilna theatre.

Scores of the movie elite call at the Payne home, drop in nickels which go to various charity organizations.

It all started with John's hobby of making recordings of film stars doing things which are considered strictly out of their line. Among his recordings is one of Sonja Henie singing a comedy song which she made during the filming of "Sun Valley Serenade."

Jane Withers presented him with a recording of a saxophone solo which she performed and Jack Oakie sent him a platter he made of Hamlet's soliloquy, in a serious vein.

Roger Pryor, currently seen in "South of Panama," is now at the Lyric theatre. Arthur Pryor, who "Whistler and His Dog," ranks among America's all-time musical favorites. Virgil Valo has the feminine lead in "South of Panama," now playing at the Lyric theatre, got her first film break as the winner of the second Jesse L. Lasky, "Gateway to Hollywood" contest. Roger Pryor is started.

"The Bride Wore Crutches," a film of newspaper reporters and youngsters, promises all entertainment-seekers a swell "assignment" also showing at the Lyric theatre. Ed Verdier, an ex-newspaper man did the lively screen play which has been hailed for its authenticity. Featured in the top-notch cast are Lynne Roberts, Ted North, Edgar Kennedy, Robert Armstrong, Lionel Stander and Richard Lane.

North, a cub who is "dizzy" enough to try anything once, finally gets himself fired by an irate managing editor because his nose finds trouble instead of news. But star newspaper gal Lynne Roberts risks her neck to save him. In a five-star final climax the cub thwarts a big bank holdup and scores a real scoop.

Chamber Music Society To Do Program On Wednesday

Exponents Of Real "Low Down" Swing May Be Heard Via WJZ; District Attorney To Have Thuller

Having survived their second anniversary on the air, those blasting exponents of barrel-house and boogie woogie, the Chamber Music Society of Lower Basin Street musicians (they say) will be audible, in case any one listens, at 9 p. m. Wednesday over WJZ.

One of the most sensational criminal events in New York history revolved around the so-called "mad dog killing." The B-posito Brothers who killed a policeman and wounded a heroic cab-driver during a holdup attempt in the city's busiest district.

A story similar to that will be portrayed in graphic detail on the "Mr. District Attorney" program over W.E.A.F. under the title of "Vengeance of the Victorios." Jay Jostyn as the D. A. has a hell-chase after the blood-thirsty Vittorio gang but with the aid of Harrington, the demon detective (played by Len Doyle) and Miss Miller, efficient secretary (played by Vicki Vola), he finally emerges as the victor. Peter Van Steeden's orchestra handles background music and Ed Bryson directs proceedings.

A romantic Mexican and a Mad Russian sign a pact of friendship "Tina to Smile" over W.E.A.F. at 9 p. m. when The Guitars, favorite swinging star of Latin American, matches wit with Bert Gordon, dialectic heckler on the Eddie Cantor stanzas. When the insults aren't flying or Cantor isn't trying to rescue his guest star from the Gordon assault then diabolical will also hear "Dinah Shore, Harry Von Zell and Cookie Patrethel's orchestra and chorus. Lovely Mary Ann Mercer, vocalist on "Unleash Walter's Dog House," heard at 7:30 p. m. over W.E.A.F. has practically joined two different forces, of Uncle Sam's fighting units. Last week-end she went to Camp Wheeler, Ga. where she was held as the "Valentine date." This week-end she goes to Fort Bliss, Texas, for a Washington's Birthday dance, where she will be the guest of the regiment selling the most Defense Bonds and Stamps.

Bob Strong and his Music with a Strong appeal will dedicate "The Eyes of Texas" to the Cavalrymen at Fort Bliss. Other numbers in the College Monday, include songs for Rochester University, and Iowa State college. Mary Ann, the "Huddle Girl" of the 1st, cavalry division, makes her contribution with the number, "Mandy Is Two."

There is a New Mexico town named Lango.
