New Double Bill Will Open At The Sigma On Wednesday

"Butch Minds The Baby" And "This Was Paris" Star Virginia Bruce, Brod Crawford, Dick Foran And Ben Lyon

The new package of entertainment to be opened Wednesday at the Sigma theatre contains "Butch Minds the Baby" and "This Was Paris." The first, starring Virginia Bruce, Brod Crawford and Dick Foran, concerns a tough copper who becomes a softie for a kid, while the second, "This Was Paris" is a reproduction of an old-time star, Ben Lyon, returned from bomb-wracked England. Miss Ann Dvorak is the female of the plot. Concluding films are "Dangerously They Live" and "Mr. Bug Goes to Town."

Fact and fancy are mixed in satisfactory portions in the current Quilna film, "To the Shores of Tripoli," starring John Payne, Maureen O'Hara and Randolph Scott. The facts-the training of a U. S. Marine from his enlistment to the time he reaches active service is carried thru by Payne, even as you or I would be trained. The fancy-glamor and pretty girls, a romantic plot, not as you and I would meet.

Carvel's young Mr. Hardy learns a new lesson about women, becomes a wiser individual but still retains enough adolescence to get him into trouble, in "The Courtship of Andy Hardy" at the Ohio. Mickey Rooney, of course, is Andy, with Lewis Stone, Cecilia Parker and Fay Holden, completing the family, Donna Reed as the newst name on the list of Andy Hardy sweethearts, and Ann

Robert Taylor and Lana Turner are the stars of "Johnny Eager," the State's story of a sweet-faced boy with the heart of a cad, who reforms to please his sweetheart. Hugh Herbert heads the cast of the co-featured, "Don't Get Personal" and receives an abundance of help from Mischa Auer, Jane Frazce, Ernest Truex. Robert Paige and Sterling Holloway. The romantic stars of "You Belong to Me," now at the Lyric theatre are Henry Fonda and Barbara Stanwyck, who have already proved capable of dishing is "Moon Over Her Shoulder," with John Sutton, Lynn Barr and Dan Dailey, Jr.
