Antique Show

Lorraine Shows 20 Exhibits

About 20 exhibits of antiques, several of national note, are being shown at the Madison Antique show at Hotel Lorraine. Glass, furniture, jewelry, buttons, prints, and combs are among the collections to be shown. Several of the exhibits are coming here from the Evanston, Ill., show, sponsored by the Evanston Women's club. Genaro Russo will exhibit his famous collection of stations of the cross in cameo. They were made by his father in Italy, and are as large as four inches across. Mrs. J. W. Sellers, Akron, O., will show a collection of antique jewelry that is also widely known. At least three dealers from Pennsylvania are expected to show Pennsylvania Dutch furniture, reports D. S. Clarke, 919 Spaight st., manager of the show. Only Madison exhibitor will be H. F. Sharrett, who will show a general line of antique furniture. The exhibit will be on the first floor at the hotel and will be open from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. daily, through Friday. Salvador expects its 1941-42 coffee crop to hit $50,000 base.
