Competition for excitement is presented in two films at the Lyric commencing Tuesday when Gene Autry's latest western, "Home in Wyoming," and an East Side Kids film, "Mr. Wise Guy," opens for a three-day run. Showing for the last times Monday are "Lone Star Law Man" and "Today I Hang."

Cinema's number one vixen, Bette Davis, exhibits the latest in feminine menace in her role in 'In This Our Life," the current film at the Ohio. As her sweet sister, Olivia de Havilland shares the starring honors, while Dennis Morgan and George Brent have the male lead roles.

The Sigma features "The Spoilers," a figment of the pen of Rex with Marlene Dictrich, Randolph Scott and John Wayne "Sunday Punch," starring William Lundigan, Jean Rogers and Dan Dailey, Jr. Both films offer plenty of action.

Rita Hayworth and Victor Mature have the top roles in the Quilna film, "My Gal Sal," the story of an American composer of music and his very good looking inspiration. Also in the film are John Sutton, Carole Landis, James Gleason, Phil Silvers and Walter
