Ohio Booking Change Puts "Juke Girl" With Ann Sheridan In Title Role On Screen Friday Instead Of Saturday

The Warner system, famed alike in cinematic and football ballwicks, brings three changes to the local State and Ohio theatres, it was announced Wednesday.

, At the State theatre "New Wine" and "Bombay Clipper" are brought for the edification of Lima area audiences starting Thursday. At the same time Wallace "Doc" Elliott makes announcement of a change in billing at his Ohio theatre. Comes there Friday the sumptious Ann Sheridan in a socko sound slinger, "Juke Girl." This latter will run for a full week. Then a real juke jumper hits the Ohio stage in the personable person of Clyde McCoy and his "sugar blues" band.

During the interim of Wednesday, "Pacific Blackout" and "Bahama Passage" are revealed for last times at the State.

Loads of lovelies swinging low and high plus much navy hornpiping hither and yither constitute the prime film fare in "Sweetheart of the Fleet." currently displayed at the Quilna theatre. A peachy pair of new ones burst forth across the Sigma glitter screen on Wednesday. Shown there for first times in the village are "Always In My Heart" and "I Was Framed," a swell coincidental-titled brace of dandies. Kay Francis, whose voice can still make the male populaces' back hair bristle, leads in the first while Michael Ames, Julie Bishop and Regis Toomey run top flight in the latter.

A screaming addition to the famous comic strip adaptations is "Blondie Goes to College," now at the Lyric theatre. A Bumpsteadian rise in knowledge goes along with the temperature increase in fun-enjoyment as Blondic makes the "degree team" at good ole Rutabaga tech. Mark Hellinger's balmy bit, "Rise and Shine," is the exceedingly worthwhile secondary offering at the Lyric.

A high dive in spy plotting is done in "Pastor Hall," that commences at the Drive In theatre on implication.
