Bob Crosby Subs for Bing; Massey, Power on Guest List

Bob Crosby will take over the master-of-ceremonies job on the WIBA Music Hall at 8 tonight, substituting for brother Bing, who is on vacation. Guests will be Tyrone Power and Raymond Massey, who will meet regulars Mary Martin, Victor Borge, and John Scott Trotter.

Other attractions tonight:

Columbia network's famed radio reporter and news analyst made his last broadcast Sunday night, June 14, on the eve of his departure for Washington to become head of the newly created Office of War Information by appointment of Pres. Roosevelt. Here Davis shakes goodbye with John Grillo, CBS building doorman in New York City. Under an executive order the crack reporter has been given sweeping powers for the dissemination of war news.

The Arsenal in the Clover

HERE WAS THE PICTURE, three months ago. Strewn around millions of American farms was a wealth of scrap metal. From the steel mills came a constant cry for scrap. But the farm scrap didn't come in. It was scattered far and wide, hard to find, expensive to gather. No system existed to collect it.

So we went to the 8,500 Harvester dealers in rural communities, asking them to help get in the farm scrap. The whole field organization of our company tackled the job. Promotional and publicity campaigns were launched to carry the story to the farmers.

Civic committees were organized to help. Dealers hauled scrap in their trucks. They persuaded their farmer friends to bring along a load whenever they came to town. They provided a place to dump scrap. When a good big pile was ready, the nearest scrap dealer was called in to buy. The steel mills got that scrap. They will continue to get it!

RESULT: More than 1,350,000 tons of scrap iron and steel collected from the fields and barn yards of American farms and farm communities. And more coming every day.

That's 35,000 railroad carloads of scrap. Melted down, it's enough to build 30,000 medium tanks for the Army. Or 100 cargo vessels for the battle of ocean transport.

The farmers and businessmen of rural America have revealed an iron mine in the fence corner—an arsenal in the clover.

This job is being done as volunteer war work—done by men who ask no reward, done not only by Harvester dealers and personnel but by dealers of competing companies, by local merchants and organizations. Anyone who wants to help is welcome. And they do want to help.

Nobody in the farm equipment industry makes a dime on scrap. We don't. The farm equipment dealers don't. All money from scrap sales goes to the farmers who bring in the scrap. The work of organizing, collecting and marketing is free.

Now this plan of farm-scrap collection is being carried forward by the entire industry through the Farm Equipment Institute and dealers' associations, with everybody boosting the scrap along. It is closely coordinated with the salvage plans of the W. P. B. and the American Industries Salvage Committee.

THE POINT IS: The producers of America, men who know how to do things—farmers, operators of small businesses, representatives of large business—working together, are doing another good job to help win the war. They are licking one more problem that some said was difficult and some said was impossible.

In Tokyo, in Berlin and Rome, they're finding out what it means to war with a nation where people, like motors, are self-starting.
