

Guild to Give Summer Play

Blackfriars Play 'Hotel Universe'

For the first time, the Madison Blackfriars guild will stage a summer production Sunday night, Aug. 16, in Blessed Sacrament auditorium. They play will be Philip Barry's "Hotel Universe."

The drama aroused heated controversy when it was produced in New York, but it was described by a critic as "one of the most brilliant and original plays ever written by an American."

Tony Paratore, Ruth Evans, and Guido Capponi, Norway Mariner, will have the leading roles. Paratore will appear as Stephen Field, an old philosopher, and Miss Evans as his daughter.

The cast will include Betty Evans, Joe Klein, Kay Parkinson, Herb Annen, and Solly Waddell.

Women Dancers to Present Modern Concert at Union

Ruth Hatfield and Marjorie Parkin (above) will dance together in the final performance of the summer season at the Wisconsin Union theater Sunday at 4:15 p. m. Miss Parkin, well-known to Madison audiences through her work with the university dance department in other seasons, and Miss Hatfield, now at the Goodman theater in Chicago, have appeared frequently together in recital in Chicago and elsewhere during the past year. They will present a "Modern Dance Concert" ranging from the "calypso" of Latin-America to the amusing verses of Dorothy Parker. The program will be open to the public for a small fee, and to members of the Wisconsin Union by fee card or member card.

Mayfield Piano Pupils End Summer Session

Junior and senior piano pupils of Lucille Mayfield—concluded their summer session with a recital Thursday at Esther Vilas hall.

The program included rhythm solos and ensembles as well as piano solos and duets. The toy symphony orchestra played, and each member had a rhythm instrument solo as well as a piano part.

Honorary awards were presented to Eloise Hardy, Joyce Krossemann, and Karen Takle.

U. W. Players to End Season with Double-Barrel Program

Joseph Sturm and June Loftsgordon, both of Madison, will carry the leading roles in the double-barrelled play program with which Wisconsin Players will end their summer season Thursday and Friday nights.

Sturm will be seen as the male lead in "Ways and Means," the light and sophisticated comedy from Noel Coward's "Tonight at 8:30." "Ways and Means," one of the cleverest and funniest of the plays in the collection, is written in one act and three scenes. Norma Taylor will play the feminine lead opposite Sturm.

In the second play, "The Man Who Could Be Sick," Miss Loftsgordon will have the ingenue role. The play is adapted and translated from the Moliere comedy, "The Imaginary Invalid," and was first presented as a studio production for thesis work by Kirk Denmark last spring in the Union play circle. It has been revived and shortened especially for summer session audiences.

Cellist Will Play for Last UW 'Sing'

The last informal "sing" of the summer in the Wisconsin Union theater will take place Monday at 7:15 p. m. with Arnold Kram, cellist, as guest soloist, and Paul G. Jones, of the University of Wisconsin school of music, leading the group singing as usual.

Kram is on the faculty of Rollin college at Winter Park, Fla. He will play three selections: "Largo and Allegro" from "Sonata in G minor" by Henry Eccles; "Minuet" by Valensini; and "Scherzo" by Van Goens. Ulla Mae Knutson will accompany him.

Familiar Essay to Be Considered in New Extension Class

The familiar essay, lamented by a current writer as "that lavender-scented little old lady of literature" which is dying out, is presented as much alive in a new correspondence course announced by the extension division, University of Wisconsin. The course "Contemporary Essays," is adapted for individual

Dancers Appear in J. J. Jones Exposition

These dancers are members of the "Follies of 1942," a typical Broadway production featured on the midway of the Johnny J. Jones Exposition now current on the showgrounds opposite Burr Oaks golf course. In addition to 22 tented theaters, rides, and a side show, the railroad combine presents Clyde Beatty, internationally famous wild animal trainer, and his complete circus unit.

Good Literature Can Be 'Escape'

Library Patrons Have Wide Choice

"The only real escape literature in such times as these is good literature," wrote Elmer Davis in the Saturday Review of Literature a month ago. At the Madison library, staff members are discovering that many borrowers agree with the director of the Office of War Information about the books they want to read.

From the recent display of Pulitzer Prize winners, people borrow at least a dozen books daily. Each day's circulation record almost invariably includes books by Nobel prize winners Elgird Undset, Pearl Buck, Thomas Mann, and Sinclair Lewis.

Well-written adventure stories don't stay on the shelves long. "Moby Dick," "Kidnapped," "Captain Horatio Hornblower," and "The 39 Steps" are in almost continuous circulation. Within the past six months, the library has bought new copies to replace worn-out favorites by Jack London, Joseph Conrad, and John Buchan.

The new edition of Tolstol's "War and Peace" is so popular that there is a waiting list. Patrons have entered reservations for such "heavy" reading as Goethe's "Faust," Martin's "Story of Philosophy," and "The Basic Writings of Sigmund Freud."

Of course, many are always reading lighter fiction of all kinds, and humor is still popular. During a typical day last week, cardholders borrowed books by Benchley, Ogden Nash, Clarence Day, and James Thurber. But an equal number were interested in sober, and even somber stories like Huxley's "Eyeless in Gaza," D. H. Lawrence's "Women in Love," Flaubert's "Madame Bovary," Bronte's "Wuthering Heights," and Maxim Gorky's "Bystander."

This prevalent interest in good writing of a serious nature might be explained by the comment of one woman who had just finished reading the tragic story of a farmer's family faced with drought, debt, and insanity. As she returned Josephine Johnson's "Now in November," she remarked, "I liked the book. It was a good story. Her problems made me forget my own troubles for a while."

Naval School Graduation to Be Broadcast at 4 Today

The first graduation exercises of the U. S. navy's training school at the University of Wisconsin will be broadcast over WIBA and WHA today at 4.

Pres. C. A. Dykstra, speaking for the university, will deliver the charge to the men, and Commander Fred H. Schnell will represent the navy.

Immediately after the Camp Randall broadcast at 5 over WHA, Roy Matson, editor of The State Journal, will be heard in a discussion with Prof. Leland DeVinsky, A. C. Garnett, and Howard Becker on the topic, "Must Germany Be Punished?"

Other outstanding programs of the day:

10:02 a. m.—Northwestern Reviewing Stand (WGN): effect of war upon railroad transportation.

10:30 a. m.—Invitation to Learning (WBEM): Isaac Walton's "The Compleat Angler."

1:30 p. m.—Chicago Roundtable (WIBA): effects of the war upon farm families.

7 p. m.—American Forum (WGN): Should the government pay for injuries and property damage sustained during air raids?
