Notes for You

BY WILLIAM L. DOUDNA

AT FOND DU LAC: Julie and Juliette Gerke, twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Gerke, will furnish the entertainment for the 40 & 8 banquet at the state American Legion convention in Fond du Lac Friday night.

They'll appear at Hotel Relaw, doing duo-piano numbers, songs, and readings. Their repertoire has been expanded to include impersonations of Percy Grainger, composer-pianist, and Dr. Sigfrid Prager, conductor of the Madison Civic Symphony orchestra.

MUSIC

AT SOLDIER FIELD: Gladys Swarthout, Jan Klepura, John Charles Thomas, and Lucia Albanese will sing the leading roles in the Chicago Opera Co.'s special production of "Carmen" at Chicago's Soldier field Saturday night, Aug. 8.

Miss Swarthout will sing the title role, with Klepura as Don Jose, Thomas as Escamillo, and Miss Albanese as Micaela. Others in the cast will be Jane Johnston, Margery Mayer, Wilfred Engelman, Mark Love, and Giuseppe Cavadore. Carlo Peroni will be the conductor.

MIDWAY NOTES: A two-year romance set the wedding bells ringing today. Francine McDermott, 23, leading lady of the "Follies of 1942" on the Johnny J. Jones

OUTDOORS: Exposition's midway, and Woodrow Jones, 26, concession operator, were to be married. The bride is from Pittsburgh, Pa., and the groom from Augusta, Ga. Johnny J. Jones, Jr., son of the show's founder, will go into the army air corps Aug. 4. The carnival's next stop will be the Chippewa Falls, Wis., fair. Cancellation of the Indiana State fair gave it an opening for the Madison date.

CONTRAST: Comedies of the 17th and 20th centuries, with their scenes laid in France, will be produced at the Wisconsin Union theater at 8 tonight and Friday night. They'll be Noel Coward's "Ways and Means" and Moliere's "The Man Who Would Be

STAGE

Donald Varian, University of Wisconsin graduate student, will direct the Coward play, and Prof. Ronald E. Mitchell will direct the Moliere comedy. The latter was translated by Kirk Denmark and was produced last spring as part of his graduate work in speech. The casts: "Ways and Means": Norma Taylor, Joseph Sturm, Neil Towner, Gertrude Cardewin, Marcia Seidenbond, Theodore McNelly, Jean Webster, and Albert Rights.

"The Man Who Would Be Sick": John Shaver, Mary Latimer, June Lofsgord, Janis Stephens, Guy Mallory, Maurice Levine, Morris Jones, Mary Ann Halleberg, Helen Kuchuk, Donald Pratt, and Aaron Herschfluss.

AT THE UNION: For the first time in many months, a program of modern dance music will be offered in the Wisconsin Union theater when Marjorie Parkin and Ruth Hatfield appear at 4:15 p. m. Sunday under the sponsorship of the Wisconsin Union music committee.

DANCE

Miss Parkin, skilled in comedy, is an instructor in Chicago. She studied at the Bennington school, spent a summer in Europe with Berta Ochsner and Mary Wigman, taught at Stephens college, and earned her master's degree at the University of Wisconsin.

Miss Hatfield, a University of California graduate, is now associated with the Goodman theater in Chicago. She has danced with Lester Horton, was co-director of the Minneapolis Modern Dance center and studied at Bennington.
