Oconto Pastor Takes Pulpits at Orfordville, Evansville Churches

EVANSVILLE-The Rev. Henry Schadeberg arrived here from Oconto Friday afternoon to take over the pastorate of the Metho-dist church here and at Orfordville. He will preach his first sermon in both churches Sunday. The Rev. T. C. Nagler, pastor here for the past three years, was transferred to Mr. Schadeberg's post at Oconto at the annual Methodist conference held in Milwaukee recently. The Nagler family moved to Oconto Friday. Church services here include church school at 10 a, m. and

NEW YORK-(U.P)-The music students barred by James C, Petillo of the American Federation of Musicians from broadcasting from Interlochen, Mich., this summer, have scattered to their homes to carry on the fight for "freedom of speech," Dr. Joseph E. Maddy, leader of the Interlochen festival said Friday. Dr. Maddy said he and his students would continue to battle for the right of amateurs to radio expression despite the Petrillo ban which was pased on the ground of competition against professionals. "We are an educational project ntirely," Dr. Maddy said. "We've entirely," got a $100,000 indebtedness."

He asserted that Petrillo's policy would bar the air to any but union men and that the AFM leader will not listen to proposals that 5 per cent of musical air time be given over to educational or non-commercial music. Dr. Maddy said he was a mem-er of the Petrillo union and appreciated what the union had done for musicians. "So we've tried to tell the students the trouble wasn't the unions," he said. "It was Petrillo."
