Year's Balmiest Army Story Will Open Tuesday At Lyric

"Tramp, Tramp, Tramp" Stars Jackie Gleason: "Women In The War" Is Billed As Co-Feature

Hailed as the balmiest Army story of the current season. "Tramp Tramp, Tramp," starring Jackie Gleason, is scheduled to commence Tuesday at the Lyrice theatre. "Women in the War," a story of the feminine side of the great conflict, will be co-featured. Showing for the last times Monday will be "Arizona Cyclone," starring Johnny Mack Brown, and "Inside the Law," starring Wallace Ford.

In between assignments: film, "Somewhere I'll Find You." The pair appear as newspaper correspondents, climaxing their ca- drews and Emma Dunn head the reers with the coverage at Batricia Dane appear in prominent and Oscar O'Shea.

The Andrews Sisters appear at the Sigma in "Give Out, Sister," the hectic story of a jive-hungry maiden who achieves fame and fortune despite the objections of her sedate millionaire relatives, namely three melancholy aunts. Dan Dailey, Jr., and Grace Mc-Donald head the cast. Also showing is "Voice of Terror."
