Roundy:

Well I have taken another hop guess I am in no mans land now. Our camp is up in the mountains there is a little town down the hill a couple miles and also a river. It is a very pretty sight from up here but I would much rather be home locking at the Yahara River, Came over some wild country and mountains on my way up here about 1,500 miles. Snow on the mountain tops but none here as yet but won't be long had some here two weeks ago. We are going to be able to get around. How is Sid Smith and Ernie Green? Say hello to them for me. We have everything outside up here we have to go two miles for water and also to take * bath. There are only about ten white women up here as far as what I have seen they have a show here change pictures twice a week and they are couple years old. We have beer and it is only 75 cents a bottle, ice cream is 30 cents a dish and a hamburger sandwich is 35 cents so things are a little high up here. We get beans and wieners for dinner and wieners and beans for supper don't know what they have for breakfast as I don't eat any sucpose they have rice. How do the Badgers look this year? Haven't seen a paper or radio so don't know much about it or the World Series. Had a nice moose steak down town the other night for $1.25 not bad at all for the size of it and compared to the price of hamburger. Well have a nice wood fire so guess I will hit the hay we cut our own wood up here and have plenty of it. So long for now keep the Badgers on top. with snow so guess it won't be long new. Roundy: I am enclosing a buck to pay for some home town news. Please send me as many issues of the "South Carroll Street Rag" as the buck will pay for. I sure do miss some good coverage on sports, especially your column. Kindly have the circulation department begin my moneys worth with the issue of Sunday, October 11th, so that I may get the details of the Missouri game. I have got a few live ones here from Missouri who sure are suckers for giving strong odds (and I'm taking them too).
You probably don't remember me, but you have always called me "Irish" and "Kid". In case you are in doubt, ask Homer Cochrane over at the Belmont Spa about me.

We sure have it down here in Missouri, Food, lousy; water, same; weather, ditto; beer, no good. In fact, Missouri is the only state in the union where you are able to stand in mud up to your hips and yet have dust blown in your face.

Well, Roundy, if you'll take care of this for me, I'll be reading for sure something that I'll really enjoy instead of some of these 'two-bit scandal sheets'' we have tion. Incidentally, are sports writers allowed in this country around here or is there a bounty on them? I haven't yet seen a good sports account published in any paper within five hundred miles of here. And that's no lie either. Whoa! I just saw something. "The Camp Crowder Weekly Rag" came out today and Dick Crayne, ex-Iowa backfield and pro star is an athletic director here, He picks Wisconsin over Missouri. I'm sending under separate cover a copy of the old "bladder". Maybe you'll find something of interest in it. I seldom do. Best regards,

Pvt. A. R. "Doc" Keland. Roundy:

Perhaps you will grant this letter some space in your column, in the interest of Negro soldiers stationed here who have organized a formidable football team but, be-cause our athletic program is just getting under way here at "new" Camp McCoy, have been unable to schedule any games.

The players are members of the 73nd Military Police Battalion, average around 24 years of age and 175 pounds. weight. Most of them played football on southern high school elevens, and a few have had semi-pro experience.

The men are anxious to meet almost any team within reasonable traveling distance of Sparts, and are willing tomeet almost any servicemen's or civilian teams providing none of the following are in-Iowa Seahawks, Wisconsin,

Great Lakes, Camp Grant, Minnesota and Notre Dame. Managers interested in arranging games with this fine group of soldier-athletes should contact Sgt. Charles Froneberger, 732nd M. P. Bn., Camp McCoy, Wis. at once. Until they turn out better halfbacks than Elroy Hirsch, > Yours very truly, Corp. Paul F. Karberg.

P. S. Hope Harder is fit and ready to face Great Lakes. Believe Hirsch needs his help. I read your column daily.
