Reporter Frustrates Spy In State's New Offering

Romance And Adventure In Canadian Wilds Offered In Co-Feature Opening On Thursday

"Spy Ship." the exciting film that opens Thursday at the State theatre shows that today's newsmen are doing an important job in combating fifth column activity in the United States. The picture tells the story of a female radio commentator's attempt to transmit secrets to the enemy during her broadcasts and how a reporter frustrates her plans. Romance, thrills and adventure in the Canadian wilds are shared by Ruth Hussey, John Carroll and Bruce Cabot in "Pierre of the Plains" also opening Thursday at the State.

An abundance of that old rahrah spirit so popular at this football time of year is displayed in "The Spirit of Stanford" that opens Wednesday at the Quitna theatre. Stanford is anything but a pigskin headliner but the picture is typical. "Submarine Raider" also starts.

The courageous story of queens of the air is related in cinematic sequence in "Wing and the Woman" that opens Wednesday at the Sigma theatre. In the cast of this inspiring film are Anna Neagle and Robert Newton. Much of that good old hush hush stuff is produced in the unwinding of "Secret Eremies" likewise opening Wednesday at the Sigma theatre.

Mr. District Attorney Will Help War Worker Out Of Spot

There'll Be Bloodshed On The Airwayes Before Jay Jostyn Reestablishes Order Wednesday Night

A war production worker takes time off from his job and gets himself into a peck of trouble, in "The Case of the Absent Worker," which comes to the attention of "Mr. District Attorney," in the Wednesday broadcast at 9:30 p. m. over NBC. His second mistake-the first was in taking the vacation when he was needed on the assembly line-comes when he teams up with an unscrupulous character who helps him get rid of of his accumulated wages in a hurry. There is bloodshed before "Mr. District Attorney", played by Jay Jostyn, succeeds in establishing order. Len Doyle and Vicki Vola are heard as his assistants. The script is by Ed Byron and Jerry Devine, Byron directs. Peter Van Steeden CRACKERS
