

"Berlin Correspondent" To Be Shown At Quilna Friday

Reporter Lured Into Nazi Trap By Beautiful Gestapo Agent; "Careful, Soft Shoulders," Is Co-Featured

Concerning a courageous Yankee reporter who is lured into a Nazi trap by the Gestapo's loveliest blonde bait, "Berlin Correspondent," starring Virginia Gilmore and Dana Andrews, opens with the Friday preview showing at the Quilna theatre. Also on the bill is "Careful, Soft Shoulders," James Ellison and Virginia Bruce in the starring roles. Showing for the last time Friday will be "Flying-Tigers," starring John Wayne, John Carroll and Anna Lee.

In her latest picture, "Now, Voyager," commencing Friday at the Ohio theatre, Bette Davis has a new, glorious role as the neurotic daughter of a strict New England mother, whose only escape from her sordid world is a frustrated love affair. In the male lead is suave, handsome Paul Henreid. Showing for the last time Thursday is "The Major and the Minor," with Ginger Rogers and Ray Milland in the starring roles.

Among the favorite detectives of cinema who come and go with regularity is Ellery Queen, who is around solving plots cooked up by Hollywood's guess men. The current problem is in "Desperate Chance for Ellery Queen," with the cast headed by William Gargan, Margaret Lindsay and Charles Grapewin. Also on view is "Silver Bullets," a western adventure film.

The current film at the State theatre, "I Live On Danger," stars Chester Morris as a special events man working for a business establishment which presents news and music over a wireless device. Jean Parker appears as the leading lady, while a talented cast includes Elizabeth Risdon, Edward Norris and Dick Purcell. Co-featured is "Friendly Enemies," starring Charles Winninger and Charlie Ruggles.

Held over at the Sigma by popular request is the current film, "Here We Go Again," with a cast featuring some of the top-notch entertainers of the programs offered by wireless. Fibber McGee and Molly, Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy, the Great Gildersleeve and Ginny Simms are the characters. Also showing is "City of Silent Men."

Bette Davis' newest starring picture, "Now, Voyager" will open on Friday at the Ohio theatre, an event which spells entertainment plus to film audiences. Co-starred with her is the romantic Viennese actor, Paul Henreid, while the brilliant supporting cast is made up of such film favorites as Claude Rains, Gladys Cooper, Bonita Granville and Ilka Chase.

In "Now, Voyager" the story of a New England girl who rescues herself from her inhibitions, she is unattractive to start with but later becomes a charming woman of the world who, thru love, finds the courage to rebel against her tyrannical mother.

The picture starts when Bette's sister-in-law, played by saucy Ilka Chase, a young woman who can stand her ground in defiance of the stiffest of Boston Back Bay tradition, decides to call in Dr. Jacquith (Claude Rains' role), a psychiatrist, to treat Bette. For Bette is suppressed in every sense of the word. Her appearance is fat, dowdy, showing a carelessness and apathetic outlook. She is constantly on the verge of a nervous breakdown.

At first she is antagonistic toward the doctor, but later becomes more sympathetic and reveals to him that all her life she has been under the strictest domination of her mother, a strict-laced disciplinarian who never would allow her the simplest of pleasures. Gladys Cooper, the fine actress of the London stage is cast in the mother's role.

Bette forms a hatred for her mother which culminates in her having a nervous breakdown. After a period of mental reconditioning at Dr. Jacquith's rest home, he advises her to go on a trip before returning to face her mother. Her sister-in-law takes her to a beauty parlor, gets her a new up-swept hair-do, supplies her with a diet, and new evening gown, and puts her aboard a luxury liner.

Virginia Bruce and James Ellison have an exciting time of it with a gang of Axis spies in "Careful, Soft Shoulders," new suspense thriller, coming to the Quilna theatre Friday night. The action is fast, furious and often hilarious, as Virginia becomes indignant at the Jap attack on Pearl Harbor and decides to do something about it. Being a young lady with romantic inclinations, she thinks the best way to aid Uncle Sam and, at the same time, have an exciting time is to become a streamlined Mata Hari.

James Ellison, meanwhile, commits what turns out to be the almost fatal mistake of romantically pursuing Virginia who, in turn, already is pursuing some enemy agents specializing in tipping off Axis U-boats on the whereabouts of convoys.

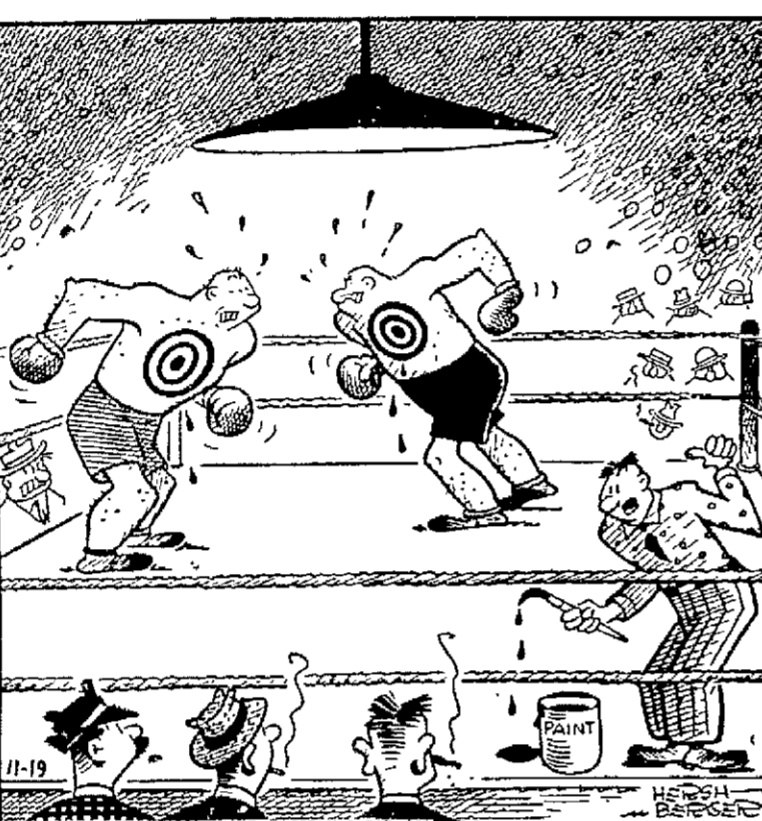

All told, "Careful, Soft Shoulders" is said to provide more thrilling suspense than the Axis

STEEL WORKER COMMITTED TO LIMA HOSPITAL

George Byers, 50, Mingo steel worker, was sentenced Wednesday to the Lima State Hospital for the Criminal Insane by Judge Arthur Hooper of the common pleas court at Steubenville.

Charged with first degree murder in the revolver slaying last July of his wife, Anna, Byers entered a plea of not guilty Tuesday. The day preceding the tragedy, Mrs. Byers sued her husband for a divorce charging extreme cruelty. Byers recently underwent a 30-day period of observation and doctors there said he is suffering alcoholic paranoia.

Scrap collectors must turn in 17,000,000 tons of iron and steel to meet the demands of war industry, for the last six months of 1942.
