Spine-Tingling Western Film Slated At State Thursday

'Busses Roar" Is Co-Featured. While Ohio Continues To Offer Jack Benny And Ann Sheridan

Good old blood and thunder Western stuff is to be presented Thursday at the State theatre with the showing of 'Apache Trail." Besides this spine-tingler, a prime piece of melodrama entitled "Busses Roar" likewise shows at the State.

Meanwhile the W. Market-st show house features Lana Turner and Clark Gable in "Somewhere I'll Find You" and "You're Telling Me" with Hugh Herbert. A fine bit of foolishness, "George Washington Slept Here" runs currently at the Ohio theatre. Jack Benny is as ineptly humorous as he is over the radio and Ann Sheridan as his wife certainly doesn't detract from the scenic aspects of the film. "Tales of Manhattan" is as fine a bit of film fare as seen for many a moon hereabouts. Rarely have I seen so many stars in a Goofy-phizzed Judy Canova and Joe E. Brown team up in the Lyric's new offering "Joan of Ozark." It's swell hokum. Also showing is "Gallant Lady" featuring Rose Hobart and that sinister chap, Sidney Blackmer,
