Best Show

Another honor has come to Andre Kostelanetz, pictured here. His program on CBS Sundays has been chosen by the radio editors of the United States and Canada, in the Motion Picture Daily poll, as first in the "Best Musical Show in Radio" classification.

With Husband

Helen Wood, pictured here, Elaine on "Those We Love," will be written out of the script for the next few weeks in order to be with her husband, who is in the army, until he leaves for duty over-

Notes for You ....

THE CITY'S HITS: "White Christmas" today started the New Year right by marking up its 12th successive week in the No. 1 spot among Madison's best-sellers in popular music. "When the Lights Go On Again" was in second place for the second straight week, and "There Are Such Things" moved from fifth to third. Two songs disappeared from the list-"Manhattan Screnade" and "My Devotion"—while two returned after an absence. They were "Strip Polka" and "Der Fuehrer's Face." Here are top 12 tunes, as shown by The State Journal's survey of sheet music, phonograph record, and automatic phonograph business:

FIRST. "White Christmas," 12th straight week.
SECOND. "When the Lights Go On Again," unchanged. THIRD. "There Are Such Things," up from fifth, FOURTH. "Why Don't You Fall in Love With Me?" up from FIFTH. "I Had the Craziest Dream," down one place.

SIXTH. "Praise the Lord and Pass the Ammunition," down from

SEVENTH. "Moonlight Becomes You," up from ninth. EIGHTH. "Mr. Five by Five," second straight week. NINTH. "There's a Star Spangled Banner Waving Somewhere," down from seventh.

TENTH. "Dea , Beloved," second successive week. ELEVENTH. "Der Fuehrer's Face," back after a week, up from

TWELFTH, "Strip Polka," back after a week, up from 15th. CASUALTIES. "Manhattan Serenade," from sixth to 15th after 10 weeks on the list; "My Devotion," from 11th to 17th after two

COMING UP. "Can't Get Out of This Mood," "Touch of Texas,"

Radio Predictions for 1943 By FRED ALLEN

This is war! Next to war the second largest industry in the country today is viewing with alarm. Prognosticators are on the to learn they never heard of him wing. The economist looks up from his crystal ball and the politician peeks out from behind the eight ball to warn us that the offing is Franklin Roosevelt-and an unfraught with plight.

The business man is cautioned that any profits showing at the end of his year will be purely coincidental. The farmer is ordered to plow over what he formerly plowed the frank flag-waving that went to under. This year, for the first time, the farmer will have more fur- the heart of Cohan's generationrows in his land than he has in his brows. The motorist is warned that come spring, he won't have enough rubber left to make a mat for a bird bath, enough gas to remove a grease spot from his cuff or enough oil to lubricate his pincenoz. Every man knows where he is going to stand except the radio listener.

The radio listener is told nothing. What does the future hold for this bewildered denizen of the parlor? In an effort to be of service to the frustrated little man with his hands on his dials, I venture the following predictions:

For 1943 the radio listener can expect: Jack Benny advertising a new product. This may start a trend. Radio comedians who can't find new jokes will find new sponsors. Mr. Benny will have nothing new this year but his commercials.

An eminent etymologist will claim that radio has added 7,239 new words to the English language. This will not include some choice words coined by listeners.

Two hundred and 19 child actors will return from their Christ mas holidays to find that their voices have changed. The parents of these children will have to go back to work. The treasury department will put a ceiling on the $64 question.

A radio announcer, while reading an anti-sneeze soapflake commercial, will sneeze over a coast-to-coast network. His sponsor will say something, and it won't be "gesundheit!"

A violinist will play "glow worm." A blackout warning will interrupt his solo. The violinist will switch to "dark eyes" until the "all clear" is sounded.

Three Hollywood stars will broadcast a scene from their new picture, and 5,342,781 listeners will resolve to miss the picture. Some busybody will identify "that lady I seen you with." Several big-name radio comedians will be thrown into defense work.

A prominent announcer will broadcast a War bond plea from a blimp flying over New York City. The balloon will come down, but the announcer's hot air will keep him suspended over Radio City. For the first time in radio history people will look up to an an-

The circus half-man half-woman will appear as a contestant on Battle of Sexes progra and her own opponent.

A commentator specializing in the "prediction of things to come" will get his notice unexpectedly. This will prove that, where radio figures are concerned, the sponsor is supreme in "predictions of

The raucous moron who yell "you'll be sorry" at contestants on the "Take It or Leave It" quiz will be drafted. Once in the army he can yell "you'll be sorry" at Hitler. A gasoline program will have commercials that will tell you what gasoline is and how it is processed. They may tell you where you can get gasoline . . . but I doubt it. The Quiz Kids will grow up and become Information Please. Messrs. Fadiman, Kieran, Adams, and Levant will finally attain their second childhood and become the Quiz Kids. Someone will appeal a case on the Good Will Court. Autograph rationing will start. Instead of signing their names, radio actors will only give fans their initials. A new sound man at NBC will oil that squeaky door on the Inner Sanctum program. The new sound man will be fired.

A war correspondent will predict the outcome of a great naval battle. His prediction will be wrong. The network will arrange to have the battle fought over again to vindicate its war correspondent. Two bank robbers on "Gang Busters" will conserve tires. Instead of escaping n an automobile the bandits will make their getaway on pogo-sticks.

A popular concert tenor will sing "Shortenin' Bread" on a sustaining program. A total of 47,298 listeners will shake their radio sets to get the crumbs out.

A middleweight boxer will pant "Hello, Ma, I'll be right home" into a microphone. The middleweight will then duck around the corner and spend the next three days in a beer joint.

The Eddie Cantor and Red Skelton programs will merge. Cantor's new slogan will be "Ida dood it." This looks like a great year for listeners. Radio is marching on! On a treadmill.

Happy new year!!! 0 0 0

tion boss, predicts that the solelysensuous Tondelayo will be the ruination of his new assistant, Langford, as she has ruined Witzel's earlier helpers. She almost is, but Langford eventually is shipped "back home" and Tondelayo has to take a dose of the poison she planned to use on

HIGH SPOTS: Witzel grapples Tondelayo, forces her to drink poison, does it adroitly enough so that, despite extreme physical
