Grant County Women Form Organization to Aid War Effort

LANCASTER-At a meeting of 125 rural women here recently it was voted to form a women's auxiliary of the Grant County Electric Cooperative.

The object of the organization is to carry on a program through which rural women may assist in the war effort; procure current in-formation needed in their daily work, maintain health, use electricity wisely and care for electrical equipment, and try to keep up morale in their home communities. Mrs. Charles Wieland was elected president; Mrs. Clayton Con-dry, vice-president, and Mrs. William Schloesser, secretary-treasurer. A meeting of the executive committee and officers will be held in the near future to choose a name for the group and plan future meetings.

Cucumber Crop Fail; Seed Company Sued TRENTON, N. J. — (U.P)

New Jersey's highest court was asked Saturday to decide what was responsible for the failure of Jo-seph Iuliucci's cucumber crop. He sued a seed company for $1,500, charging that it had sold him nine pounds of seed, which should have produced 1,500 bushels, and produced only one half bushel. The seed company pleaded that insects blight, fertilizer or the weather was responsible. A lower court had dismissed the suit, for lack of proof.
