Life Of Andrew Johnson Comes To Ohio On Tuesday

Dramatic Historical Novel Opens Engagement As Sigma Schedules Story Of Australian Aborigines

The darkest period of American history, the strained days following the close of the Civil war, form the dramatic historical background for much of the tense action in "Tennessee Johnson," based on the life of Andrew Johnson, which opens an engagement at the Ohio Tuesday. Van Heflin portrays the President who followed Abraham Lincoln into office.

The Australian aboriginals are polyagamous and frequently indulge in the sport of ----oufe stealing. Tuesday and Wednesday will be the final days for the showing of of the highest calibre. "Casablanca," at the State theatre. Starring Ingrid Bergman, Humphrey Bogart and Paul Henreid, it tells about the hazardous eristence of refugees stranded in that North African city. Richard Dix, Wendy Barrie and Don Porter have three lead roles in the thriller, "Eyes of the Underworld" which completes the bill.

Movie tans who see "The Meanest. Man in the World," at the Quilna theatre are in for plenty of laughs. Jack Benny portrays a starving lawyer and pretty Priscilla Lanc is cast as his homecown sweetheart. Lloyd Nolan is kept busy in the co-feature, "Time to Kill," a fast-moving, thrilling hit.

SIGMA

"Pitusi," due Wednesday at the Sigma theatre, the Australian melodrama, is probably the finest film of the wilds that the screen has ever known.

It offers shattering proof to the world that even in this modern day can be found the still-living remnants of a savage, brutal stone age people. The weird dances, brutal customs, unfamiliar drugs, and conflict of the Australian aboriginals transport the theatregoer back to the stone age.

A kidnapped authoress, a strange white king, dope rings, thrilling scenes all play a part in this unlusual screen drama. "Queen of Broadway"
