What's on the Air

Two Musical Programs Feature Songs of Easter

Easter music will be featured in two concert programs tonight—Great Moments in Music over WBBM at 9 and the Northerners over WGN at 9:30.

In the former, Jan Peerce, Jean Tenyson, and Robert Weede will be starred in a program which will include Schubert's "Ave Maria" and Bizet's "Agnus Dei."

The Great Lakes Naval Training station choir will appear with the Northerners. The program will include "Were You There?" a spiritual, and "Christ the Lord is Risen Today."

Other features tonight:

Quetzal Would Be "Mr. Guatemala" in Bird Beauty Show

LET US suppose that a beauty show for birds was held, and let us think for a moment of the birds which might appear.

Among the smaller birds of the north temperate zone, the bluebird, the canary, the red-winged blackbird, the oriole and the cardinal might be among the candidates. Even the bluejay could put in a claim.

BACON FAT FOR SHORTENING

Use bacon fat as shortening in waffles, pancakes, and muffins. It flavors them nicely, at the same time that it conserves the rationed fats. Biscuits to top meat pie also do well shortened with bacon fat.

The torrid zone would be likely to supply the bird which would win first place in the voting. Colors tend to be brighter and more varied in the tropics, and the torrid zone also has the birds with the most remarkable tails.

The bird of paradise, the lyre-bird and the peacock surely would be among the runners-up. All have interesting tail feathers, as well as pretty colors. Perhaps one of those three would win the contest.

Down in Central America, however, you would have a hard time in making a resident admit that any bird in the world is more beautiful than one which lives down there. I am thinking of the quetzal.

This bird, in the contest, would be "Mr. Guatemala." It
