Henry Aldrich Has Short Sales Career On Program

Garry Moore And Jimmy Durante To Continue Comedy Ways: Fibber McGee And Molly To Attend Elks' Picnic

Henry's career as a sales representative of a mail order house is short and not particularly sweet during "The Aldrich Family" Thursday over WEAF at 8:30 p. m. (EWT). A motor boat, sought as the premium for his endeavors, shrinks to a telescope without lenses. Complications are 200 feet of chicken wire ordered by Judge Thompson and a piano player roll which is supposed to play "The Lost Chord," for Mrs. Sparrow.

Having voted themselves "Most Thursday Night until the Sponsor day, at 10 p. m., E.W.T. Durante, who enjoys Moore's comedy "Haunt." immensely, says about him: "He's Morgan will assound and amaze funnier than me brudder—the his colleagues with his fabulous one in our family with the big nose." Moore, in describing Durante, says: "He's a master of malaprop and how do you spell

There may be some difficulty since Bing Crosby is away, but Fibber McGee and Molly will try their level best to induce him to sing at their Wistful Vista Elic's picnic, when they appear on the program to be heard Thursday at 9 p. m., (EWT) over WEAF. Brought to life on the screen is this story of a Norwegian fishing village, its simple, peace-loving people, and of the brutal Nazi boot that stamps out freedom wherever it goes.

Despite acts of brutality upon the villagers, the underground system functions perfectly. News travels fast; plans are made; meetings are held under the very noses of the watchful Nazis. When the villagers are secretly armed by the British, they wait in readiness for the time to strike. The Nazis give them their opportunity in the particularly brutal assult on the aged village schoolmaster, followed by an ordered for a mass execution of the ring-leaders in the underground movement.
