Weatherman Piles Up Doubleheaders

Activity in the American League for several days has been confined to armchair strategy in hotel lobbies because of the pranks of the weatherman and, while the backlog of doubleheaders has played havoc with the streamlined schedule, it has put the Cleveland Indians in a particularly favorable position.

The Indians are almost tied with the Senators for second place in the junior league today-only a few percentage points separating the two clubs. However, Cleveland is considered the real challenger to the New York Yankees over the long haul be-cause it has a pitching corps that is three deep in talent.

Only other club in the American League that compares numerically with the Tribe's tossers is the St. Louis Browns. But Luke Sewell's slinging squad lacks quality and hasn't the ability to cope with the accumulation of twin bills that threaten to deluge the clubs with smaller mound

Tigers Win in 13 The Indians suffered a tough blow when Mel Harder was sidelined with a fractured ankle, but Rookie Jack Salveson from Oakland in the Pacific Coast League eased the pain by tossing a four-hit shutout against the Athletics

Should Salveson's success be emulated by another rookie or two from a crop including Pete Center, Allie Reynolds, Mike Navmick and Paul Calvert, the Indians may find themselves in a neck-toneck battle with the Yankees down the stretch in the American League.

The Boston Red Sox and Detroit Tigers went at it tooth-andnail for 13 innings Friday before the Bengals turned in a 2-1 triumph. Tex Hughson of the Sox and Hal Newhouser of the Tigers had a torrid mound duel, both going the distance. Hughson gave up seven hits and fanned eight. He lost the game when Tony Lupien missed Joe Hooaer's popup for a two-base error that allowed Doc Cramer to score Hoover with a single to center.

Johnny Humphries com-bined brilliant pitching and timely hitting as the Chicago White Sox blanked the Washington Senators, 1-0, before 8,567 spectators in a night game at Comiskey Park. He only three hits as the Sox nicked Dutch Leonard for nine, doubled and scored the deciding run in the fifth on Thurman Tucker's single. It was Humphries' third triumph of the year and the sixth Chicago victory in the last eight games.

The Athletics, held to two hits by Johnny Niggeling, rallied in the ninth to defeat the Browns, 2-1, in a night game at St. Louis. A fluke play provided the A's with the winning run. With JoJo White on third, two out and the sip. score tied, Niggeling eased a knuckle ball up to Pete Suder. Suder missed, but the ball eluded Rick Ferrell and White whizzed across with the winning run. Orrie Arntzen doled out six hits to the Browns.

FRIDAY'S STAR - Johnny Humpries, who pitched and batted the White Sox to a 1-0 triumph over the Senators.

on the Sports-Go-Round: Betting at Belmont Park, during the first eight days of the current meeting, exceeded any similar opening period in the history of American racing. Count Fleet Seeks 3rd Win in Withers Mile

By JACK CUDDY

NEW YORK -(U.P)- Despite the wartime handicaps in many sports, we seem to have clubhouse seats for the achievements of possibly the greatest thoroughbred in the history of American racing-Count Fleet.

Many of the turf experts insist that we'll never know whether Mrs. John D. Hertz's horse is a greater track champion than was Man O' War. They say you can't make accurate comparisons between horses that have raced a score of years apart. But we disagree. We believe such compari sons can and ultimately will be made, quite accurately.

No Competition Who will win—we do not know. That depends entirely upon Count Fleet during the next couple of years. However, it is our opinion that the high-headed Fleet at least is the outstanding sports competi-tion of our era — despite the achievements of Gunder Hagg and Greg Rice.

At the current writing, Hagg may have menacing competition in Rice, and vice-versa. But we know of no competition for Count Fleet in the three-year-old class or, perhaps, in any division of racing.

Won Derby, Preakness This brown colt, magnificently ridden by Johnny Longden, now is in the midst of what may be a record-shattering surge for a three-year-old. And today he carries the Hertz Yellow-and-Black silks in the Withers' Mile at Belmont Park, running against probably only three rivals—W. E. Boeing's Slide Rule, Belair Stud's Tip Toe and Foxcatcher Farms' Sun-

In this mile run Count Fleet continues his chase after (1) the record set by Sir Barton, only horse to win the Withers for the nd the triple crown Kentucky Derby, Preakness and Belmont Stakes, and (2) Gallant Fox's money-winning record of $308,275 for threeyear-olds.

There is only one real point to this deal. It concerns the action of East after the other three players had passed. If East passed also, his side would have had a top score, losing no points at all on the hand.

The basic principle illustrated is just as important in rubber bridge as in match point duplicate, sometimes more so. It is that, when your fourth-hand holding is mainly in minor suit cards, the two opponents are more likely to have major suit strength than your side, and therefore likely to be able to outbid you without loss. Note that not even the last bid actually made by East and West can be successful, 3-Clubs. It would be down a trick by normal play, with the loss of five tricks in the majors.

Novikoff On Way to Join Low Cubs

CHICAGO - (LP) - The first division hopes of the cellar-nap-ping Chicago Cubs rested today on the husky shoulders of Lou Novikoff, enroute here to take up the business of baseball. Novikoff, a holdout no longer, signed a contract and hopped a train at Los Angeles which should put him in Chicago Sunday.

General Manager James T. Gallagher left no doubt that the welcome mat had been swept clean and placed outside the door. Gallagher's welcome was offered despite the fact he has yet to learn the terms of the contract, which was negotiated at Los Angeles by Clarence Rowland, president of the Los Angeles Angels. Rowland is a member of the Cub organization. The Mad Russian had demanded $10,000, and the Cubs had offered him $6,000. If he is in good condition, he may start in left field when the Cubs return from their disastrous eastern trip Wednesday.

or to enforce them?' "Yours truly. "Howard Peters."

From Howard's letter, I am unable to tell which side of the argument he was on, so I think he presented the question very fairly.

preme court to interpret the laws

The chief duty of the United States Supreme Court is to interpret the law, not to enforce it. The American Constitution makes special mention of the court's power to decide cases "between two or more States;—between a State and citizens of another State" and "between citizens of two or more states."

There is no special mention of

The Constitution gives the court no power to enforce its decisions. That power is in the hands of the that I decided to ask you. The question is this: 'Is the chief function of the United States sungressident The first section of president. The first section of Article II states:

"The executive power shall be vested in a president of the United States of America." Whoever holds the executive power is the one who executes, or enforces, the law. The presi-dent, not the Supreme Court or Congress, has the duty of making sure that national laws are carried out. The president delegates part of this work to the Department of Justice, which includes the Federal Bureau of Investigation, better known as the "F. B. I."
