Tale Of Marijuana Traffic Unfolded In Film At Lyric

Program Completed By "Lucky Legs," Starring Jinx Falkenburg And Russell Hayden

A straight from the shoulder, no-holds barred, actionpacked tale of the marijuana traffic among high school students, and its terrifying effect on them is told in "The Devil's Harvest," at the Lyric. Completing the program is "Lucky Legs," starring tall and graceful Jinx Falkenburg and Russell Hayden.

A role hand-tailored for his sauve, forceful acting is provided for Herbert Marshall in the Ohio hit, "Flight for Freedom," in which he plays the second masculine lead. Rosalind Russell and Fred MacMurray are starred in this hit which unveils the mystery of the disappearance of a daring aviatrix who vanished on a flight around the world.

The Sigma is presenting "Hangmen Also Dic," which reveals the as yet undivulged inside story of the assassination of hangman Reinhard Heydrich, Anna Lee, Dennis O'Keefe, Walter Brennan and Brian Donlevy have leading roles. Laughs galore are found in the co-feature, "Fall In." starring Jean Porter and William Tracy.

Popular music dominates the breezy action of the new songpacked romance, "Hi, Buddy," currendy at the State which features Marjorie Lord and Dick Foran. Eighteen tunes, many of them Hit Paraders, are included in the film's score. "Keeper of the Flame," dealing with a newspaperman's effort to solve the secret of a mysterious death, completes the program. It stars Spencer Tracy and Katharine Hepburn.
