

Singing Star Shares Honors In Film Appearing At Quilna

Great Gildersleeve Stars At Sigma; "Thunder Birds" Heads Program On Screen At Lyric

Introducing the current crooning heart-flutter, Frank Sinatra, the Quilna film, "Reveille With Beverly," stars Ann Miller, with several hot tune mixers including the orchestras of Freddie Slack, Bob Crosby, Duke Ellington and Count Basie.

Comes dawn and trouble starts for the girl who works magrate, Throckmorton P. Gildersleeve, star of the current Sigma film, "Gildersleeve's Bad Day."

A thrilling color film story of the soldiers of the air is the current Lyric attraction, "Thunder Birds," starring Gene Tierney, Preston Foster and John Sutton.

The dramatic story of the England that will never bow to militant Fascists is offered in Noel Coward's "In Which We Serve," following the adventures and career of a British warship.

Ethel Waters and Eddie "Rochester" Anderson are the stars of the current Ohio film, "Cabin in the Sky," adapted from the famous stage play.

"Footlight Serenade" is currently offered Lima Drive-in patrons, with John Payne and shapely Betty Grable in the featured roles.

Stars of stage and screen combine talents to provide a musical fantasy of unusual brilliance in "Cabin in the Sky," now playing at the Ohio theatre.

Based on the New York stage hit of the same name, "Cabin in the Sky" deals with the struggles of Petunia, played by Ethel Waters, aided by the forces of good, to save the soul of her well-meaning but weak-willed husband, Little Joe, portrayed by Eddie (Rochester) Anderson.

The forces of evil, represented by Lucifer, Jr., Rex Ingram, plot the downfall of Little Joe in an air-conditioned room in Hades. They enlist the aid of temptress Lena Horne, sensational young M-G-M singing star.

But Petunia fights fire with fire and with the forces of good on her side rescues Little Joe from the clutches of evil temptation.

Singing the ballads "Happiness is Just a Thing Called Joe" and "Cabin in the Sky" as only she can sing them, Ethel Waters also makes the song, "Taking a Chance on Love," something to long remember.

Lena Horne will thrill you when you hear her sing "Honey in the Honeycomb," Rochester and Miss Horne do a comic duet, "Consequences."

Other musical highlights are provided by Duke Ellington and his popular band and the famous Hall Johnson Choir.

Also in the cast are Louis Armstrong of the celebrated trumpet and the dance team of "Buck and Bubbles." Kenneth Spencer gives a fine characterization as the "General" of the Lord.

Studio ingenuity, bending every which way these days owing to priorities and shortages, almost met its match recently on the set of "Thunder Birds." Soldiers of

In each case, the individual groups are heard in the piece for which they are the most popular. For instance, Count Basie's "One O'Clock Jump" has topped all record sales in the country.

Foster and Sutton head the featured cast of "Thunder Birds," which has Gene Tierney in the starring role. The film was produced and written for the screen by Lamar Trotti. Jack Holt, Dame May Whitty, George Barbier and Reginald Denny have important parts.

With the whole country "Cowboy Boogie" conscious, "Reveille With Beverly," currently entertaining Quilna theatre audiences, brings to the screen the reasons why the number has jumped so high in popularity.

Frank Sinatra, fast-rising young vocalist whose records are giving Bing Crosby's a run for top sales, has a prominent singing and acting spot in "Reveille With Beverly."

Sinatra's acting stock is currently mounting almost as high as his record. Formerly featured vocalist with Tommy Dorsey, he made a personal hit in "Sun Valley Serenade" and other films.

SERVANTS YOU TAKE FOR GRANTED

POLICE and fire protection are a vital part of any town's life, yet how seldom one gives thought to their importance! We just take a policeman or a fireman, and the security they represent, for granted.

And sometimes, it seems that the railroad, too, is thought of in much the same way. People forget what the railroad means to a town's cultural and business life—and they forget the thousands of workers and wealth of material it requires to keep the railroad running.

Today, B & O's job is Victory. But, while we're giving that job top priority, your town's civilian needs are being cared for, too. And there are sixty thousand of us who are going to see to it that, when the war is won, your town's interests come first with the B & O.

the Air, which is now at the Lyric theatre. Preston Foster and John Sutton needed an airplane for closeup scenes in the picture, much of which was authentically filmed at Thunderbird and Falcon Fields near Phoenix, Arizona. The plane had to be the exact type used by British cadets training there.

"I don't know how we're going to do it," admitted Director William A. Wellman. "Nowadays it's tough enough to find material to make an ordinary wheelbarrow—let alone anything so complicated as a whole airplane."

The prop department was stumped too—until some ingenious lad thought of "Yank In The R.A.F." After that it was simple. They simply dismantled three planes used in that picture and made one streamlined, 1942 model for "Thunder Birds." The plane, of course, would not throw a scare into the Luftwaffe even if it could be made to take off, but experts will bet their bottom dollar ordinary folks will not be able to tell the difference.
