Bruins Trim Dodgers Again

Phillies Trip Cards; Yankees Nip Indians

The sudden emergence of the Chicago Cubs as a distinct pennant threat in the National League is not so surprising when the performances of Outfielder Bill Nicholson and Pitcher Hi Bithorn are considered.

Nicholson, with his hitting, and Bithorn, with masterful mound work, now have sparked the Cubs to 21 victories in their last 30 starts and observers were busily drawing a parallel to the rapid rise of Charlie Grimm's 1935 Bruins which won the senior league pen-

That was the year the Cubs won 21 straight and rose from fourth place to a berth in the world series. Grimm's club won 19 of 20 during September and on the 27th clinched the pennant with their 20th triumph in the opener of a doubleheader. If Nicholson has driven in 71 NICHOLSON runs to displace Billy Herman of the Dodgers as the leader in that department. Bithorn has been equally brilliant. He effectively spaced 12 Brooklyn hits Friday for his fifth straight and 13th win of the year. Only three other pitchers, Elmer Riddle, Mort Cooper and Rip Sewell, have won more games while only Cooper and Sewell have bettered Bithorn in total innings pitched and complete games. Bithorn has fashioned 13 complete contests and toiled in 160 innings. Wasdell Beats Cards

The Giants ran up their biggest run-total of the year in trouncing the Pirates, 13-7. The eighth-placers got seven hits in the second for as many runs.

Riddle racked up his third shutout and 14th win of the migricap to bring the Braves a 3-0 triumph. Butch Nieman's two-run homer in the first was enough for Barrett to win.

Jimmy Wasdell punched out a pinch single in the 11th to give the Phillies a 3-2 triumph over the Cardinals in a night game.

White Sox Lose

Friday's stars - Outfielder Bill Nicholson and Pitcher Hi Bithorn who led the Cubs to a 12-3 decision over the Dodgers.

Brewers Split Twin Bill With Colonels to Maintain AA Lead Paces Major

Milwaukee could get no better than an even break with the lowly Louisville Colonels Friday night but it was enough to keep the Brewers' lead in the American Association to three and one-half While both Columbus and Indianapolis were dropping twin bills elsewhere, the Brewers plastered the Colonels, 12-4, and then lost 4-1. Wes Livengood, aided by Bill Norman's four-run homer, received credit for the . opener. Vic Milwaukee bats in the nightcap.

The pitching of Wilf Le-Febvre and Otis Clark proved too much for the Columbus Redbirds at Minneapolis, Le-Febvre scattered eight Columbus hits in the first game as the Millers won, 4-2. In the nightcap, Clark reduced the Redbirds' quota to two safeties and the Millers took another, 3-2.

the cellar-dwelling Blues, Johnny Stoughton and Sun Prairie. Johnson held the Indians to two three safeties.

At St. Paul, the Saints split a twin bill with the Toledo Mudhens. Toledo won the first game, pleasants for planting Saturday 3-1, as Johnny Whitehead hand- afternoon and Sunday morning. cuffed the St. Paul hitters throughout. Wren's fifth inning homer with one aboard furnished the winning margin. In the second contest, the Saints reached two Toledo pitchers for nine hits to register a 6-3 victory.

Typical Brewer power won the first game Friday night in a convincing 12-4 fashion, with a seven run fourth inning helping Wes Livengood to his 12th pitching win of the year. The Brewers scored all their runs in the first four innings. Three Louisville pitchers failed to check the Milwaukee bats.

Knows His Horses Ben is cautious and makes no extravagant claims. You ask him what Volo Song's chances are and he smiles in that tight-lipped manner so familiar among harness men. He says: "well, he's in top form.

Last year Ben was to pilot the Ambassador, an outside choice owned by William H. Strange of Brooklyn.

"We'll win easily," the plump driver confided to Strang found this hard to believe and was among the most surprised when White brought the colt home in front for an upset triumph and his third Hambletonian victory. The reason is that in more than a half century on the grand circuit — harness racing's major league—Ben has developed an uncanny knack of knowing when his horses are in top condition.
