Nieman's 'Story Book' Homer Gives Braves Win Over Cubs

Appling Gets 2,000th Hit

Indians Take Second in American League

Elmer "Butch" Nieman was making Manager Casey Stengel and fans of the Boston Braves very happy today with his application of the "story book" finish to baseball games. Nieman hit his fourth home run Friday-in the 10th inning with a mate on-to give Boston a 5-4 victory over the Chicago Cubs. Thursday it was Nieman's 12th inning triple that provided the Braves with another victory over the Bruins, and last week, while the team was on the road, Butch won an extra inning game against the Brooklyn Dodgers. The next day his eighth inning circuit clout broke a tie and provided Boston with the necessary margin for vic-

Change for Better!

Strangely enough, Nieman, a former all-Big Six halfback at Kansas State, appeared to have little, if any, big league possibilities last year when he played in the Eastern League. In 10 games with Elmira and 107 with Scranton, the husky outfielder com-piled a batting average of only 207, far below the mark necessary for a trial in the big time in ordinary years.

But, under the tutelage of Stengel, Nieman is beginning to blossom and he celebrated his recent promotion to the cleanup position in the batting order by blasting out six blows in the last two days. The hits boosted his average and won his ninth game of the campaign as Hughson was charged with his eighth setback. Hugh son hurled a six-hit ball game b his only scoring support was Ton Lupien's homer which score Lamar Newsome ahead of him the first inning.

The Cleveland Indians moved into the junior loop's fast changing second place as they stretched their winning streak stretched their winning streak to six by dropping the Philadelphia Athletics, 6-4. Mel Harder, assisted through the last inning by Rookle Allie Reynolds, received credit for the victory which plunged the A's deeper into the cellar.

Spud Chandler evened the New York Yankees' series with the St. Louis Browns by making his 15th victory, a 4-0 shutout over the Missourians. The American League's leading hurler put six men down via the strikeout route and walked only one to hand Johnny Niggeling his sixth straight defeat. Rookie Catcher Ken Sears aided the league leaders with a Washington | Detroit | Det aided the league leaders with a homer in the fourth frame.

Friday's Star - Elmer "Butch" Nieman, whose homer in the 10th inning enabled the Boston Braves to beat the Chicago Cubs, 5-4.
