

"Week-End In Havana" Plays Return Engagement In Lima

A return engagement of "Week-End In Havana" is part of a double bill which starts with a preview Friday at the Quilna. It stars Alice Faye, John Kane, Carmen Miranda and Caesar Romero. The other picture in the billing is "Paris After Dark."

Currently featured at the Sigma are "The Strange Death of Adolf Hitler" and "Guns of the Pecos," a thrilling western. Coming Saturday are "Hi Ya Sailor" and "Fallen Sparrow."

"Alaska Highway" and "Bombardier" now are showing at the State in a twin feature which is furnishing plenty of entertainment.

The double bill at the Lyric theatre just now carries the western, "Wagon Tracks West" and another highly interesting film, "Here Comes Kelly."

Paul Muni's "Hudson Bay," now showing at the Drive In theatre, is one of that talented film artist's outstanding works.

"Let's Face It" which opens Friday at the Ohio theatre is a vehicle in which Bob Hope wows the customers as "a wolf in khaki" with Betty Hutton as "his animal trainer."

At the Majestic theatre now are playing "Leopard Man" and "The Moon and a Sixpence."

OHIO — "Let's Face It," "QUILNA" — "Appointment in Berlin" and "Dangerous Blondes," "SIGMA" — "The Strange Death of Adolf Hitler" and "Guns of the Pecos."

STATE — "Alaska Highway" and "Bombardier." LYRIC — "Wagon Tracks West" and "Here Comes Kelly." DRIVE IN — "Hudson's Bay." MAJESTIC — "Leopard Man" and "Moon and a Sixpence."

COMING UP — "QUILNA" — "Week-End In Havana" and "Paris After Dark" start with preview Friday. STATE — "Watch on the Rhine" and "Saludos Amigos" start Sunday.

SIGMA — "Hi Ya Sailor" and "Fallen Sparrow" open Saturday. MAJESTIC — "Hit the Ice" and "Cipher Bureau" open Sunday.

LYRIC — "Hit the Ice" and "Cipher Bureau" midnight show Saturday. OHIO — "Princess O'Rourke" coming next Friday.

One of Broadway's most popular musicals, the Cole Porter smash hit, "Let's Face It," has been made into what promises to be an uproarious film, co-starring Bob Hope and Betty Hutton, with Dona Drake, Cully Richards, Eve Arden, ZaSu Pitts, Marjorie Weaver and Raymond Walburn.

According to all reports, the movie version of "Let's Face It," which starts Friday at the Ohio theatre, is even funnier than its "legitimate" predecessor, which isn't surprising considering the fact that two comedy experts like Bob Hope and Betty Hutton head the all-laugh cast. This is the first time Bob and Betty have been paired and the results are said to be cyclonic.

The plot of "Let's Face It" gives Bob innumerable opportunities for zags. It has him in Army uniform again, as in "Caught in the Draft," but this time his troubles beset him off the camp grounds when he meets three restless, middle-aged wives, played by Eve Arden, ZaSu Pitts and Phyllis Povah. The women suspect their husbands of philandering and decide to do something about it. The "something" involves Bob.

Several film newcomers get their "break" in the new Air Force saga, "Bombardier," which stars Pat O'Brien and Randolph Scott, with Anne Shirley as the heroine. It is now playing at the State theatre.

Robert Ryan, Richard Martin and Russell Wade are all featured for the first time as student bombardiers in this gripping tale of the men who drop the block busters on Axis targets. Eddie Albert and Walter Reed portray similar roles, with Barton MacLane in a prominent part.

A night bombing of Jap war plants gives the picture its thrill-packed climax. Robert Fellows produced "Bombardier."

Also showing at the State is "Alaska Highway."

QUILNA — What happens to a woman in the hands of the Nazis? That's the dramatic question posed by "Paris After Dark," the taut, suspenseful new picture which opens with a preview Friday at the

Stage Thriller Has Feature Spot On Kate Smith Program

"Angel Street," long-run stage thriller, which has been performed more than 800 times on Broadway, and "Hi Pays To Be Ignorant," one of radio's most hilarious comedy shows, will be presented on the "Kate Smith Hour" Friday over WABC at 7:00 p. m., EST.

Amos 'n' Andy suffer a Halloween hangover when the two comedians bump into that maker of fright wigs, Peter Lorre, on their excursion thru Harlem Friday (WEAF, 9 p. m., EST). Lorre has been cast in the type of role that gives movie audiences goose pimples, something Andy will have plenty of that night.

Soprano Lucille Manners sings "One Night of Love" from the motion picture of that name on the "Cities Service Concert" Friday (WEAF, 7:00 p. m., EST). Ross Graham, baritone, sings Herbert's "I Want What I Want When I Want It" from "Mlle. Modiste."

Frank Black conducts the orchestra and chorus in "They're Either Too Young or Too Old" and "The Bombardier's Song." The entire ensemble joins for "Deep Purple."

When a pitterbug contest comes to Weston, "Richard Cuts a Rug," the distress of "The Parker Family," on Friday at 7:15 p. m., over WJZ. His dancing practice, with his girl friend, Louise Preston, sets a new high in strenuousness, and the resulting weariness cramps their competitive dancing style, the net enough to keep them from winning a prize. Richard, Patricia Ryan is Louise, Jay Jostyn and Marjorie Anderson are Mr. and Mrs. Parker.

Your All-Time Hit Parade will be heard at 7:30 p. m. over WEAF with Mark Warnow's orchestra; Jerry Wayne, baritone; Bea Wain, vocalist; the Lyn Murray chorus.

Waltz Time is at 8 p. m. on WEAF with Frank Munn, tenor; Evelyn MacGregor, contralto, the Amsterdam Chorus with Abe Lyman's Orchestra.

People Are Funny is at 8:30 p. m. over WEAF with Art Linkletter, master of ceremonies.
