Food Shortage Greatest Bother

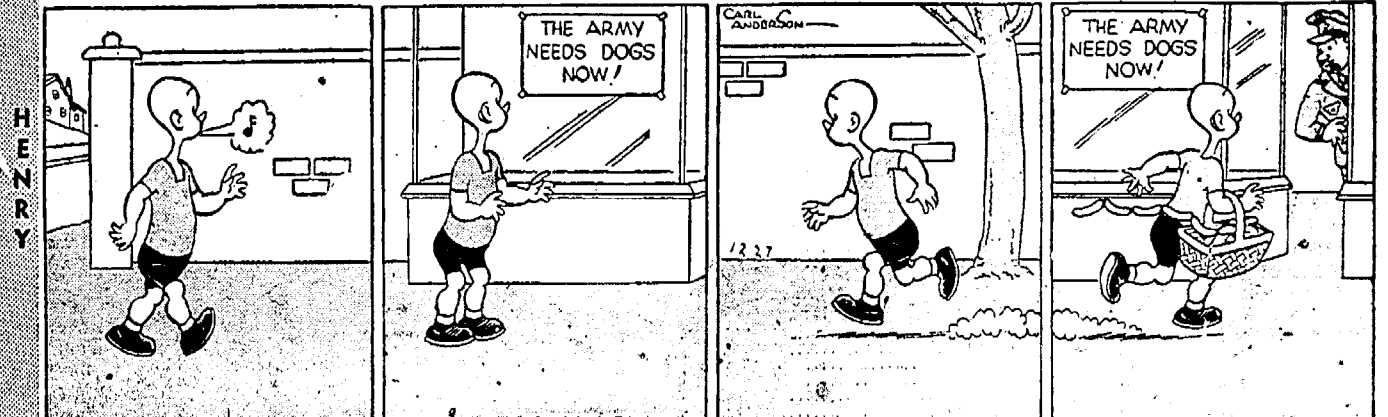

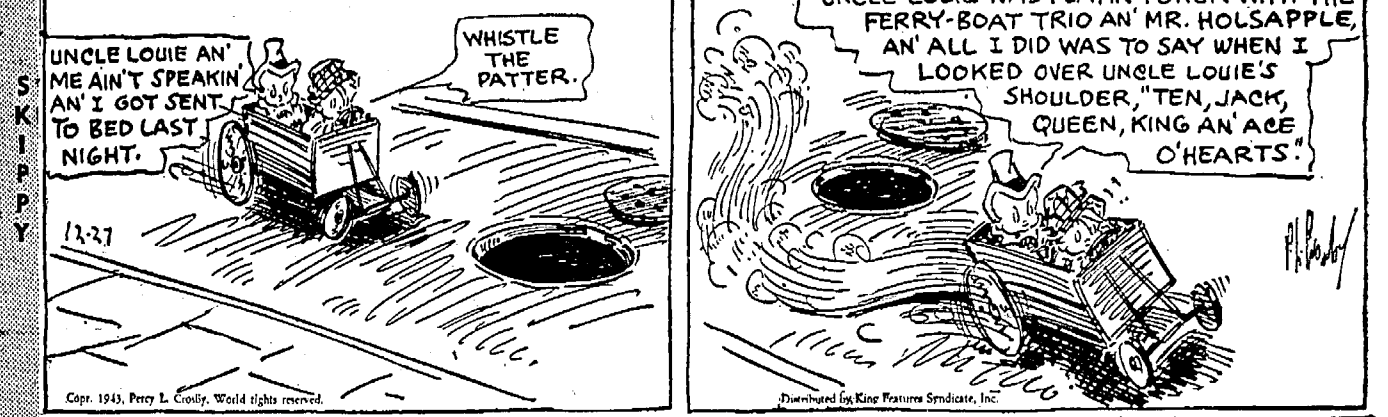

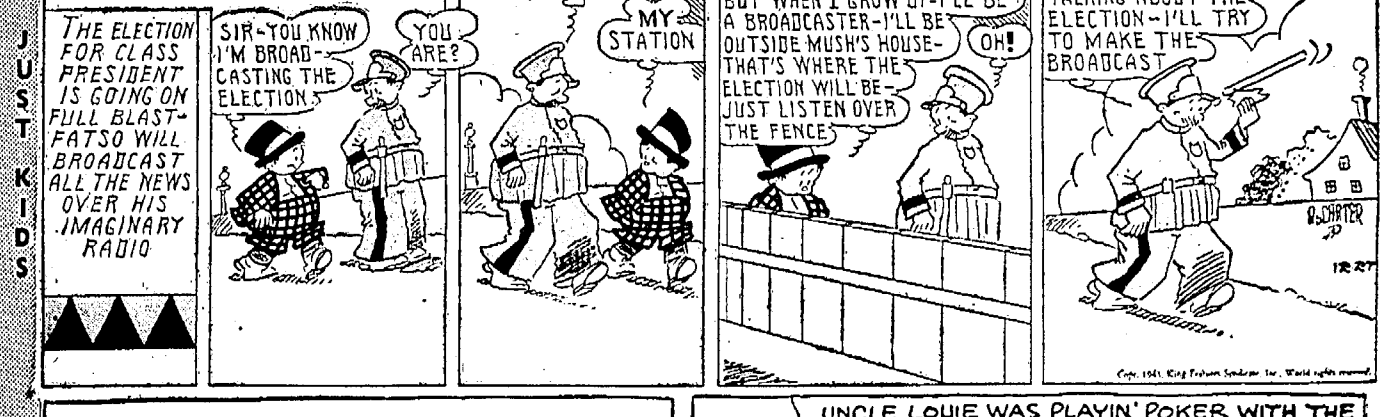

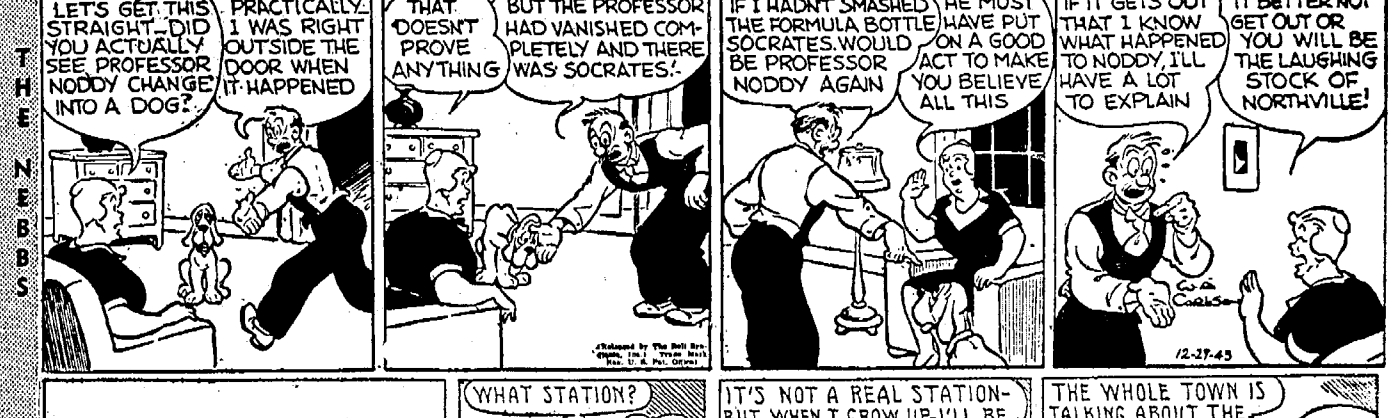

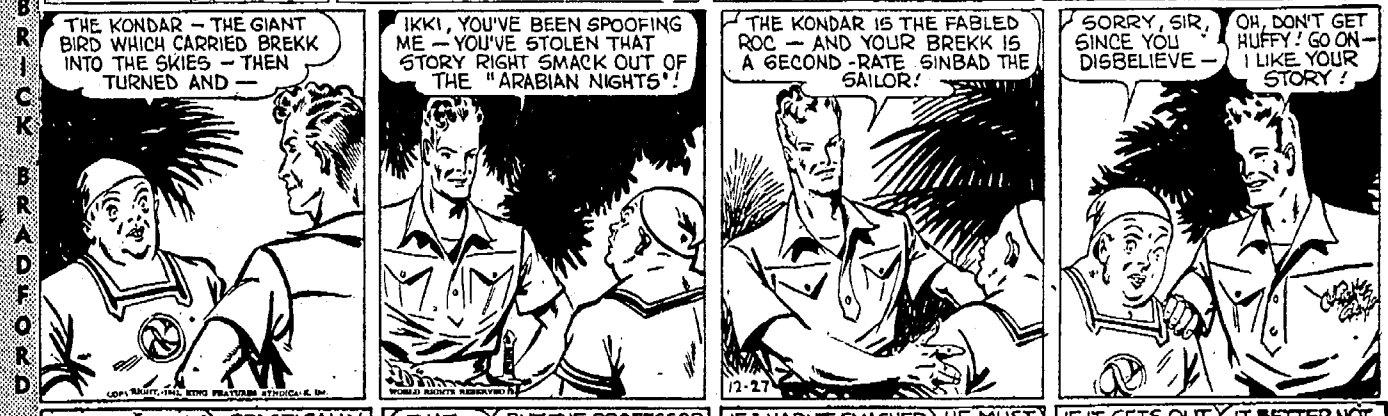

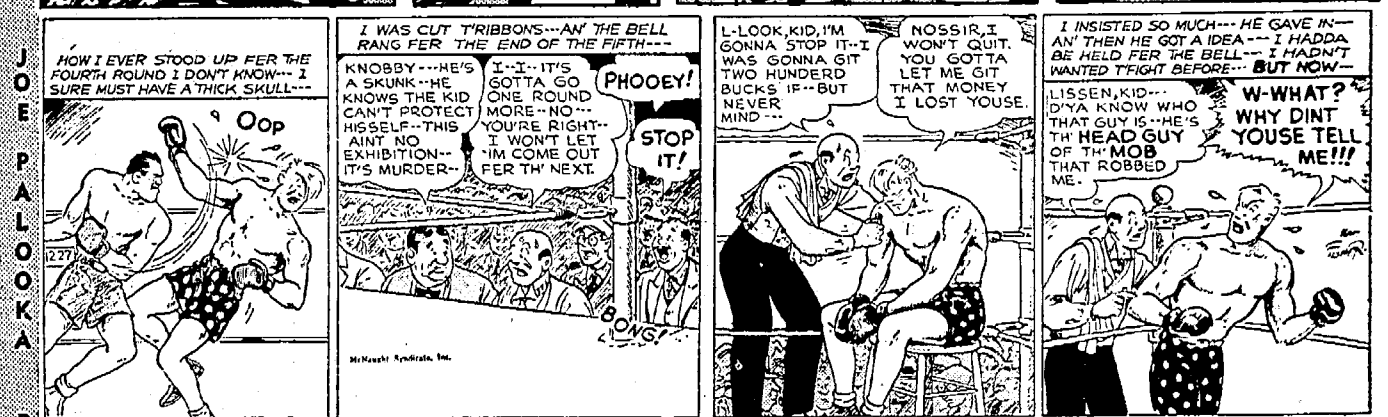

Clock, Elastic Scarcity Works Real Hardship
WASHINGTON (U.P.)—American civilians are most bothered by wartime shortages of butter, meat, sugar, soap and canned goods, but it is the scarcity of such items as alarm clocks and elastic tape which is working real hardship or inconvenience on them, the War Production Board reports.
This situation was portrayed by a survey conducted by WPB's office of civilian requirements among nearly 5,000 persons in 68 localities in 120 counties scattered throughout the nation. After ringing 5,739 doorbells and obtaining 4,935 interviews, enumerators reported:
"America isn't complaining. Alarm clocks lead list.
Accompanying the release of the results of the survey was a pledge from OCR Director Arthur D. Whiteside that most of the needs brought out by the nationwide canvass "can and will be met." He said the 1944 civilian needs program is being revised as a result of the check, and added that where materials of factories are available vigorous steps are being taken to increase civilian supplies.
Alarm clocks led the list of products whose scarcity was causing real inconvenience or hardship among civilians. Elastic tape was first among 18 products which most of the persons interviewed mentioned as among products they were unable to buy because of shortages, and was second on the "cause of hardship" list. Wash tubs and sheets were third and fourth on both lists.
The fifth "hardship" item was iron cord, followed, in order, by pails or buckets, electric irons, washing machines, women's girdles, ammunition (for use against pests and predatory animals), and pants under 10 quarts, tableware, scissors, women's panties and babies' waterproof pants.
On the "unable to buy" list, pails or buckets held fifth place, followed in order by iron cord, clothespins, boys' overalls, radio tubes, pots and pans under 10 quarts, tableware, electric irons, ammunition, women's girdles, washing machines, women's panties, zippers and scissors.
No appreciable number of women reported inability to buy hosiery today, but the dinner was held Sunday so that members of his immediate family could attend. He was born in Norway and for 60 years lived in Cottage Grove. Members of the family reported that he is still feeling fine.

Penny Grows Into Welfare

YPSILANTI, Mich. (U.P.)—Le Roy Oesch found a penny on the floor of the sprawling Willow Run bomber plant and, "just for good luck," pasted it on the fuselage of a B-24 Liberator bomber destined for England.
Oesch pasted a note next to his penny. As the bomber moved along the plant's mile-long assembly line, workers read the note and pasted quarters, dimes, and dollars to the side of the war plane.
When the bomber had completed its assembly line trip and was ready to be painted, $1,110.09 was sticking to its sides. Painters peeled off the money and turned it over to Glenn R. Brayton, president of the United Automobile Workers (CIO) local at the plant.
Oesch has a brother, Staff Sgt. Clifford Oesch, in England. Le Roy suggested that the money be sent to his brother's unit—the headquarters and service company of an engineer aviation battalion in England. So it was.
The story of the penny and the plane might have ended there—had the soldiers decided to spend the money on themselves. But a letter from Sgt. Robert Wood, a writer on the U. S. army newspaper Stars and Stripes, told the sequel to the story of the lucky penny that turned into $1,110.09 on a production line.
Capt. Richard M. Rice, Portland, Ore., was the service company commander who received the money in England. Wood said Rice posted a suggestion in the company orderly room that the major portion of the contribution be turned over to the war orphans' fund founded by Stars and Stripes. Every member of the company voted approval. Lieut. Andrew M. Prescott, Lakewood, Calif., and First Sgt. Oris C. Brashers, Alameda, Calif., were selected to represent the unit in making the donation.
Prescott and Brashers presented $800 of the contribution to two children left homeless by the war. That left $310.09 in the company fund. But the contributions have just started. An additional $208.60 from Willow Run has swelled the company fund. And there's more coming.
About one in every six motor vehicles in Venezuela is now laid up by lack of parts or tires.

Portuguese "Suburb" Took City Inside Its Boundaries
AROUND the edges of a large city, little villages are likely to spring up. Some persons who work in the city want to live at a distance from factories, heavy street traffic and so on.
Such villages may be called "suburbs" of the city. In time they may join the city, so the people can have better public schools, or for some other reason.
That is a common story, but have you ever heard of a village growing so fast that it took in a city as a suburb?
Portugal has a case of the kind. A village was started across the Douro river from the ancient city of Portus Cale. As centuries went by, the village grew into a town and at length into a city. It became so important that it was able to reach out and take the seaport city of Portus Cale inside its limits.
The village which grew into a big city was Oporto. It is in northern Portugal, near the place where the Douro river flows into the Atlantic ocean. Its population is now just about a quarter of a million. Sometimes its name is given as "Porto" instead of

There also are women who carry large trays of fish on their heads. The fish are for sale. Portuguese women carry many other things besides fish in that manner. Sometimes a mother carries a tiny tot, or even two of them, in a basket on her head! Lisbon's history goes back more than 2,000 years. In the time of the Romans, it was called "Olisipo." Most of the city has been rebuilt since the terrible earthquake of 1755. (For TRAVEL section of your scrapbook.)
