

'44 U.W. Music Schedule Announced; Pro Arte Has 22 First Half Recitals

The Pro Arte quartet already has scheduled 22 recitals for the first half of 1944, with many additional appearances as soloists by individual members of the group.

The quartet artists are now attached to the University of Wisconsin school of music as members of the faculty.

Antonio Brosa and Albert Rahier, violinists; Germain Prevost, who has been featured on the viola since the founding of the quartet; and Ernst Friedlander, the new-comer cellist, will make the bulk of their appearances at the Thursday afternoon recitals in Music hall. These recitals, which are part of one of the university's music courses, feature the music of Mozart, Haydn, and Beethoven, and are broadcast over university station WHA at 3:30 p. m., with analytical comments by Carl Brickner, director of the school.

Kay Disch Sings Solo in Philadelphia Church

Kay Disch, Madison, was guest soloist at the "Christmas Concert" of the Trinity Norwegian Lutheran church in Philadelphia. Miss Disch is now studying voice in Philadelphia. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Disch, Monona drive, and graduated from East high school in 1943.

'The Bat' Orders Accepted Jan. 3

Open Ticket Sale to Begin Jan. 17

Mail orders from the Philadelphia Opera Co.'s presentation of "The Bat," Jan. 25, will be accepted beginning Monday, Jan. 3, at the Wisconsin Union Theater box office, Walter Panceo, student concert manager of the Union has announced. Mail orders are given preference and will be filled before the tickets are placed on open sale at the box office on Jan. 17.

The gay and colorful comic opera by Johann Strauss lends itself particularly well to this presentation in English by a cast of 70 young American artists. On tour for the first time this year, the company has received glowing tributes from its audiences and from the press.

When "The Bat" ("Die Fledermaus") was presented in Rochester, N. Y., in October, the Rochester Times-Union commented, "The whole production had a disarming quality of youth and freshness that were in harmony with the aims of the young organization presenting it."

Not since 1936 has a full-scale opera, complete with chorus and symphony orchestra, been presented in Madison. When the Philadelphia Opera Co. arrives on Jan. 25, it will bring its own 30-piece symphony orchestra, costumes, and settings.

Tickets for the orchestra and the first four rows of the first balcony are $2.75; for the mezzanine and the last four rows of the first balcony they are $2.20; the chair circle and first three rows of the second balcony are $1.93. The remaining upper balcony is reserved for students and service members of the Union, with seats priced at $1.38. All prices include tax.

Plans for Band

In addition to the half-hour broadcasts given by the university band at 4 p. m. each Monday over WHA, the organization has scheduled appearances at 7 basketball games, four boxing matches, a 37th anniversary concert on Palm Sunday, Apr. 2; Senior Swing-out, May 5; Commencement concert, Lincoln terrace, May 26; and a concert at the commencement exercises in the field house, May 27.

A series of spring concerts will be given on Union terrace, on dates to be determined by weather conditions.

A Union Schedule Incomplete

The Wisconsin Union schedule for 1944 is yet far from complete, but several noteworthy artists already have been engaged. As a feature of the Sunday Music hour today, the dual piano team of Schneider and Glidden will give a recital of classical and popular music.

At 8 p. m. Jan. 8, the Philadelphia Opera Co. will present an English version of "The Bat," in Union theater; and on Feb. 5 a production of "Secrets of Susanne," starring Natalie Bodanya and Richard Bannell, of the Metropolitan Opera Co., will be given as part of the Union concert series.

Other Sunday music hour features will be John Jacob Niles, folksinger, on Feb. 27;

Safety Association Plans Four Meetings

A series of four meetings will be held in January and February in Madison by the Madison Industrial Safety Assn., it was announced Saturday by Thomas J. Rudesill, president of the Madison Industrial Safety commission.

All meetings Jan. 11, Jan. 21, Feb. 8, and Feb. 22—will be held in the East high school auditorium.

Guest speaker at the Jan. 11 meeting will be Bert "Yank" Levy, Canadian commando training expert, whose subject will be "Guerrilla Warfare and Home Defense."

and Robert Casadesus, pianist, Mar. 25. The Minneapolis Symphony orchestra will give a matinee and evening performance in Union theater on Mar. 4.

Civic Music Assn.

The Madison Civic Music Assn. has scheduled three concerts, the outstanding one on May 7, when the civic chorus and civic symphony, with Germain Prevost as soloist, will perform the world premiere of "Choral Rhapsody," composed by Oskar Hagen to words by Samuel Rogers. Other concerts scheduled will be on Feb. 27 and Mar. 26.

Pianist to Offer Classics, Jazz

Snyder, Glidden to Play at Union Music Hour

Light classics and jazz will share the program which Bill Snyder and Jerry Glidden, two-piano team, will present at the Sunday Music Hour at 4:15 p. m. today in the Wisconsin Union theater.

900 Hear 'Book Talks'

Staff Members Address 25 Clubs

Twenty-five organizations and approximately 900 people have been addressed by members of the Madison Free library staff in book talks since September, Helen E. Farr, city librarian, said Saturday in reviewing to date the activities of a panel of librarians organized for that purpose.

The plan, inaugurated last year and repeated in response to many requests, took shape in September, when first issues of the 1943-44 "Book News" were sent out to presidents and program chairmen of city organizations, offering to provide reviews on outstanding new books on the war, chosen and presented by members of the staff in 15-minute discussions. By Nov. 1, when the second list was issued, 11 organizations had been served.

Sections of the Alumni Association University of Wisconsin and the Madison Woman's club, the Altusa club, and Daughters of American Revolution, the Minerva club, the New England Woman's club, the University Housemother's Assn., the Young Woman's Christian Association, Business Girl's club and various sororities and church groups are among the audiences addressed.

About 50 different books bearing the 1943 copyright have been read by this group of librarians, consisting in addition to Miss Farr, of Ruth Anderson, Dena Babcock, Helen Butterwick, Lillian Moeblman, Margaret Nordholm, Della Thomas, and Margaret Winger. Each selects titles in which she is interested, adding continually to the list which she is prepared to discuss.

Records kept of books reviewed show "Journey Among Warriors," by Eve Curie, "Sophie Halenczki" by Rose Feld, "Short Cut to Tokyo" by Corey Ford, "Into the Valley" by John Hersey and "Burma Surgeon" by Gordon Seagrave to have been the most frequently discussed. Popular newcomers which a number are prepared to review are "This is Your War," by Ernie Pyle, "New World A-Coming" by Roi Outley, and "Mother America" by Carlos Romulo, author of last year's best-seller, "I Saw the Fall of the Philippines."

"Organizations who wish this service may make arrangements by calling the city library," Miss Farr said. "It will be continued as long as there is popular demand for it."

Admission will be free to Union members, upon presentation of a member card. The public is invited but there will be a small admission charge.

Broadcasts to Feature Music of Slavs

During the first week of school after the holidays, "Music for School and Home" radio broadcasts will feature music of the Slavic people. Pauline Graven and Catherine McHugh planned this series which will be broadcast each school day at 4:45 p. m.

Following is the series for the week:

Monday, "Slavonic Dances," "Songs My Mother Taught Me," "Carnival Overture," Dvorak; Tuesday, "Largo" from the "New World Symphony," Dvorak; Wednesday, "The Moldau," Smetana;

Thursday, "Polonaise," "Minute Waltz," Chopin; Friday, "Two Guitars," Hungarian Gypsy; "Humoresque," "March Slav," Tschalkowsky.

Swift Plant in South Faces Butter Ban

MACON, Ga. (U.P.)—The Maccon plant of Swift and Co., faced prospects of closing Saturday under a federal court order permanently enjoining shipment by the company in interstate commerce of alleged adulterated butter manufactured here.

Judge Bascom S. Deaver signed the injunction order after a hearing in which government witnesses testified the firm's butter made here was made from cream "some of which at times had in it rodent hair, leather parts, flies, maggots and other such filth."

Company officials indicated today the plant would be forced to suspend operations unless the order is modified.

'Make It Yourself' Is Theme of Union Workshop Display

"Make It Yourself" is the theme of the workshop committee's exhibit, which went on display Sunday in the Memorial Union gallery.

Barbara Lonam, committee chairman, directed the construction of the display which depicts the various steps of block printing, picture framing, the making of small ceramics, and leathercraft—all things which can be done in the workshop.

Miss Lonam, Route 4, Lake Monona, Madison, was assisted by the members of her committee, John Eustice, 2210 Rusk st.; Luis Coenen, 2128 Keyes ave.; Margaret Biddick, Livingston; Kathryn Thompson, 410 Virginia ter.; Kathryn Sanford, Stassan; Emily Larkin, Oregon; and Millident

In 'Irish Rose'

ARTHUR JARRETT

Patrick Murphy in the comedy "Abie's Irish Rose," coming to the Parkway theater Friday and Saturday nights, Jan. 14 and 15, will be played by Arthur Jarrett.

900 Hear 'Book Talks'

Staff Members Address 25 Clubs

Twenty-five organizations and approximately 900 people have been addressed by members of the Madison Free library staff in book talks since September, Helen E. Farr, city librarian, said Saturday in reviewing to date the activities of a panel of librarians organized for that purpose.

The plan, inaugurated last year and repeated in response to many requests, took shape in September, when first issues of the 1943-44 "Book News" were sent out to presidents and program chairmen of city organizations, offering to provide reviews on outstanding new books on the war, chosen and presented by members of the staff in 15-minute discussions. By Nov. 1, when the second list was issued, 11 organizations had been served.

Sections of the Alumni Association University of Wisconsin and the Madison Woman's club, the Altusa club, and Daughters of American Revolution, the Minerva club, the New England Woman's club, the University Housemother's Assn., the Young Woman's Christian Association, Business Girl's club and various sororities and church groups are among the audiences addressed.

About 50 different books bearing the 1943 copyright have been read by this group of librarians, consisting in addition to Miss Farr, of Ruth Anderson, Dena Babcock, Helen Butterwick, Lillian Moeblman, Margaret Nordholm, Della Thomas, and Margaret Winger. Each selects titles in which she is interested, adding continually to the list which she is prepared to discuss.

Records kept of books reviewed show "Journey Among Warriors," by Eve Curie, "Sophie Halenczki" by Rose Feld, "Short Cut to Tokyo" by Corey Ford, "Into the Valley" by John Hersey and "Burma Surgeon" by Gordon Seagrave to have been the most frequently discussed. Popular newcomers which a number are prepared to review are "This is Your War," by Ernie Pyle, "New World A-Coming" by Roi Outley, and "Mother America" by Carlos Romulo, author of last year's best-seller, "I Saw the Fall of the Philippines."

"Organizations who wish this service may make arrangements by calling the city library," Miss Farr said. "It will be continued as long as there is popular demand for it."

Admission will be free to Union members, upon presentation of a member card. The public is invited but there will be a small admission charge.

Broadcasts to Feature Music of Slavs

During the first week of school after the holidays, "Music for School and Home" radio broadcasts will feature music of the Slavic people. Pauline Graven and Catherine McHugh planned this series which will be broadcast each school day at 4:45 p. m.

Following is the series for the week:

Monday, "Slavonic Dances," "Songs My Mother Taught Me," "Carnival Overture," Dvorak; Tuesday, "Largo" from the "New World Symphony," Dvorak; Wednesday, "The Moldau," Smetana;

Thursday, "Polonaise," "Minute Waltz," Chopin; Friday, "Two Guitars," Hungarian Gypsy; "Humoresque," "March Slav," Tschalkowsky.

Swift Plant in South Faces Butter Ban

MACON, Ga. (U.P.)—The Maccon plant of Swift and Co., faced prospects of closing Saturday under a federal court order permanently enjoining shipment by the company in interstate commerce of alleged adulterated butter manufactured here.

Judge Bascom S. Deaver signed the injunction order after a hearing in which government witnesses testified the firm's butter made here was made from cream "some of which at times had in it rodent hair, leather parts, flies, maggots and other such filth."

Company officials indicated today the plant would be forced to suspend operations unless the order is modified.

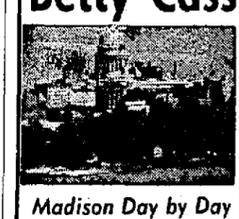

'Make It Yourself' Is Theme of Union Workshop Display

"Make It Yourself" is the theme of the workshop committee's exhibit, which went on display Sunday in the Memorial Union gallery.

Barbara Lonam, committee chairman, directed the construction of the display which depicts the various steps of block printing, picture framing, the making of small ceramics, and leathercraft—all things which can be done in the workshop.

Miss Lonam, Route 4, Lake Monona, Madison, was assisted by the members of her committee, John Eustice, 2210 Rusk st.; Luis Coenen, 2128 Keyes ave.; Margaret Biddick, Livingston; Kathryn Thompson, 410 Virginia ter.; Kathryn Sanford, Stassan; Emily Larkin, Oregon; and Millident

Betty Cass

Madison Day by Day

Four Wisconsin Highway Commission employees... Pete Peterson, "Van" Hastetune, Harold Baisley, and "Bo" Kemp... fired with a curiosity to know something first-hand about the Yukon, with a zest for adventure, and with engineers' ambition to have a hand in building the most talked-of road on this continent, left Madison last spring for that romantic country of the north.

They were all employed by the Public Roads Administration. The Yukon section of the road, with headquarters at Whitehorse, including about 600 miles of the 1600-mile road, with the Alaskan border as the western boundary and a point near the Hyland river as the east boundary.

After a summer and fall of hard work the four of them returned to Madison and their old jobs in November, having had no particularly exciting adventures but having, to their interest and satisfaction, learned many interesting things about the Yukon. Among these things were that:

Religion

9 a. m.—National Radio Pulpit (WMAQ): Dr. Ralph W. Sockman, "Outgrowing Ourselves"; Church of the Air (WBBM): Chaplain E. S. Hjortland of Camp Patrick Henry, Va., on "Stir Up the Gift of God."

10:30 a. m.—Feast of the Holy Name (WGN): Archbishop Samuel A. Stritch.

11 a. m.—People's Church (WJJD): Dr. Preston Bradley, "Courage."

5 p. m.—Catholic Hour (WMAQ): Msgr. Fulton J. Sheen, professor of philosophy at Catholic University of America, "One Lord: One World," first of series of 16 broadcasts.

Discussion

11 a. m.—World Front (WMAQ): guest, Bob Brunsky, correspondent back from South Pacific... Reviewing Stand (WGN): "The Soldier Vote," Sen. Scott Lucas, Leon Green and Rollin Posey... Invitation to Learning (WBBM): economics experts discuss Farrington's "American Thought."

12:30 p. m.—Chicago Round Table (WMAQ): "Economic Stumbling Blocks Between the U. S. and Britain," William Benton, vice-president of Chicago university; Graham Hutton, former editor of London Economist; Prof. Calvin Hoover of Duke university.

2 p. m.—Rationing Report (WMAQ): guest, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt.

3:30 p. m.—University Forum (WHA): "What Is the Effect of the War on Religion?" the Rev. Francis J. Bloodgood of St. Andrew's Episcopal church, Rabbi Theodore Gordon of Hillel Foundation, and the Rev. Alfred W. Swan, pastor of First Congregational church... Emancipation Day (WMAQ): Paul Robeson speaking on "The Negro and This War"; Fisk university choir of Nashville, Tenn.

Gasoline costs $1 per gallon in the Yukon.

Woolen clothes and shoes were reasonable: $5 for a heavy shirt, $3 for heavy underwear; $12 for an excellent pair of boots.

Concrete in bridge abutments cost about $15 per cubic yard as against $20 in Wisconsin.

Food at the camps was generally excellent. Oranges were available in the camps all summer. Milk, canned and powdered. Vegetables, canned, except celery.

It was never hot and even in mid-summer all the nights were cool, some of them cold enough for three heavy blankets.

By September a sleeping bag was standard equipment unless someone kept fires going in barracks all night.

A magnetic compass points 32 degrees east of true north at Whitehorse.

Swell displays of northern lights occurred as early as July.

Army planes, many with the Red Star of Russia on them, used the road as a beacon to Alaska.

Bear, wolves, foxes, and ravens are common. Moose are rare sights along most of the road.

The road was necessary as a back door route to Alaska in case the Japs blocked the sea route. It is also the only way to service the airports efficiently. The road is 26 feet wide and is an all-weather road which is open to army traffic from Dawson Creek to Fairbanks.

After the war, it's anyone's guess as to how many people will drive to Alaska. From the middle-west it will mean 2000 miles of practice and then 1600 miles of the Alcan. Round trip about 7200 miles. Most of it on gravel. The largest town between Dawson Creek and Fairbanks will be Whitehorse, 500 people.

Among the things you can't get while in camp are: 1. shoes soled. 2. Beer. 3. Liquor for less than $30 per quart.

Gambling was a no limit affair with thousands of dollars changing hands nightly. The night crew had supper at 3 a. m., then gambled until "bed time," 8 a. m.

Some of the men came home by bus, 942 miles, from Whitehorse to Dawson Creek, then by train to Madison. It took about eight days.

Miscellaneous

8:15 a. m.—Commando Mary (WBA): Mrs. Ernesta Barlow describes need for women civil service workers in Washington office of U. S. Navy department.

11:30 a. m.—Transatlantic Call (WBBM): Milton Bacon tells whaling love of New Bedford, Mass.

12:30 p. m.—Victory Our Business (WGN): tells of school boys and girls between 14 and 16 running war manufacturing company.

1:15 p. m.—Distinguished Guest Hour (WGN): Col. M. Thomas Tchou, former secretary to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek.

1:30 p. m.—Citizens of Tomorrow (WGN): salute to Palatine Township high school, showing war program of students.

2 p. m.—Encore (WHA): Prof. Lorenz Adolfin in lecture on American government.

2:15 p. m.—World News Parade (WMAQ): Upton Close and guest, William McGaffin, correspondent returned from Cairo.

Music

10:05 a. m.—Bluejacket Choir (WBBM): "Look For the Silver Lining," "Sweet and Low," "Smiles," "My Ideal," "Star Eyes."

11:30 a. m.—Paul Lavalle Orchestra (WMAQ): "Hungarian Dance No. 1," Brahms, "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," "Song of Love," "One Night of Love," "Thousand and One Nights," "Meditation" from "Thais."

1:30 p. m.—John Charles Thomas (WBA): "Ring Out, Wild Bells," "Can't We Be Friends," "I Love You Truly," "Hay Straw," "Should Auld Acquaintance Be Forgotten."

2 p. m.—N. Y. Philharmonic (WBBM): Robert Casadesus, pianist, guest soloist; "March in Time of War," Harris; "Piano Concerto

What's on the Air

ARLENE FRANCIS WLS Monday at 7:30 p. m.

JACKIE KELK WIBA Monday at 7 p. m.

in E Flat Major, No. 3," Beethoven; "Prelude" from first act of "Lohengrin," Wagner; "Till Eulenspiegel," Strauss.

3:30 p. m.—Andre Kostelanetz (WBBM): with Lily Pons; "Stars in My Eyes," "Think on Me," "Speak Low," "Indian Summer," "Bell Song" from "Lakme."

Metropolitan Auditions (WBBM): Margery Mayer, contralto, and Thomas John Brennan, tenor, both of Chicago, contestants, singing from Verdi's "Il Trovatore," Puccini's "La Gioconda," and Romberg's "New Moon."

4 p. m.—NBC Symphony (WBA): Love music from Wagner's "Tristan and Isolde," premiere radio performance of Dr. Howard Hanson's "Symphony No. 4"...

Family Hour (WBBM): "Drums in My Heart," "Lindy Lou," "Time on My Hands," "Donkey Serenade," "Louisiana Hayride," "Dancing in the Dark," "Perpetual Motion," Paganini.

4:15 p. m.—Wisconsin Union Music Hour (WHA): Bill Snyder and Jerry Glidden, two-piano team, in hour of classical and popular music.

4:30 p. m.—Musical Steelmakers (WBBM): "Babes in the Wood," "In Our Little Helicopter," "Besame Mucho," "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes."

6:15 p. m.—Perry Como (WBBM): new musical show, with The Bobby Tucker Voices, the Three Sisters, and Paul Baron's orchestra;

6:30 p. m.—Bandwagon (WIBA): Jan Garber orchestra and Morton Downey, tenor.

7:30 p. m.—Keepsakes (WLS): "The Girl Is You and the Boy Is Me," "The Song Is Ended," "World Is Waiting for the Sunrise," "I Love You Truly," "Who."

8 p. m.—Merry-Go-Round (WBA): "For the First Time," "There's No Ceiling on Love," "Speak to Me of Love," "Taper Doll," "My Shining Hour"...

Cleveland Symphony (WGN): Overture to "Coriolanus" and "Eroica Symphony," both by Beethoven.

8:15 p. m.—Lowly Basin Street (WBBM): Count Basie, guest.

8:30 p. m.—Familiar Music (WBA): "I Dream Too Much," "Will You Remember," "I'll Take You Home Kathleen," "Smilin' Through."

9 p. m.—Hour of Charm (WBA): "Say It With Music," "Love Everlasting," "As Time Goes By," "Play, Fiddle, Play," "Hallelujah," "Another Year Is Dawning."

9:30 p. m.—Bob Crosby (WBBM): guest singer, WAVE Ann Shorlt, pharmacist mate, third class.

Religion

9 a. m.—National Radio Pulpit (WMAQ): Dr. Ralph W. Sockman, "Outgrowing Ourselves"; Church of the Air (WBBM): Chaplain E. S. Hjortland of Camp Patrick Henry, Va., on "Stir Up the Gift of God."

10:30 a. m.—Feast of the Holy Name (WGN): Archbishop Samuel A. Stritch.

11 a. m.—People's Church (WJJD): Dr. Preston Bradley, "Courage."

5 p. m.—Catholic Hour (WMAQ): Msgr. Fulton J. Sheen, professor of philosophy at Catholic University of America, "One Lord: One World," first of series of 16 broadcasts.

Discussion

11 a. m.—World Front (WMAQ): guest, Bob Brunsky, correspondent back from South Pacific... Reviewing Stand (WGN): "The Soldier Vote," Sen. Scott Lucas, Leon Green and Rollin Posey... Invitation to Learning (WBBM): economics experts discuss Farrington's "American Thought."

12:30 p. m.—Chicago Round Table (WMAQ): "Economic Stumbling Blocks Between the U. S. and Britain," William Benton, vice-president of Chicago university; Graham Hutton, former editor of London Economist; Prof. Calvin Hoover of Duke university.

2 p. m.—Rationing Report (WMAQ): guest, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt.

3:30 p. m.—University Forum (WHA): "What Is the Effect of the War on Religion?" the Rev. Francis J. Bloodgood of St. Andrew's Episcopal church, Rabbi Theodore Gordon of Hillel Foundation, and the Rev. Alfred W. Swan, pastor of First Congregational church... Emancipation Day (WMAQ): Paul Robeson speaking on "The Negro and This War"; Fisk university choir of Nashville, Tenn.

Gasoline costs $1 per gallon in the Yukon.

Woolen clothes and shoes were reasonable: $5 for a heavy shirt, $3 for heavy underwear; $12 for an excellent pair of boots.

Concrete in bridge abutments cost about $15 per cubic yard as against $20 in Wisconsin.

Food at the camps was generally excellent. Oranges were available in the camps all summer. Milk, canned and powdered. Vegetables, canned, except celery.

It was never hot and even in mid-summer all the nights were cool, some of them cold enough for three heavy blankets.

By September a sleeping bag was standard equipment unless someone kept fires going in barracks all night.

A magnetic compass points 32 degrees east of true north at Whitehorse.

Swell displays of northern lights occurred as early as July.

Army planes, many with the Red Star of Russia on them, used the road as a beacon to Alaska.

Bear, wolves, foxes, and ravens are common. Moose are rare sights along most of the road.

The road was necessary as a back door route to Alaska in case the Japs blocked the sea route. It is also the only way to service the airports efficiently. The road is 26 feet wide and is an all-weather road which is open to army traffic from Dawson Creek to Fairbanks.

After the war, it's anyone's guess as to how many people will drive to Alaska. From the middle-west it will mean 2000 miles of practice and then 1600 miles of the Alcan. Round trip about 7200 miles. Most of it on gravel. The largest town between Dawson Creek and Fairbanks will be Whitehorse, 500 people.

Among the things you can't get while in camp are: 1. shoes soled. 2. Beer. 3. Liquor for less than $30 per quart.

Gambling was a no limit affair with thousands of dollars changing hands nightly. The night crew had supper at 3 a. m., then gambled until "bed time," 8 a. m.

Some of the men came home by bus, 942 miles, from Whitehorse to Dawson Creek, then by train to Madison. It took about eight days.

Miscellaneous

8:15 a. m.—Commando Mary (WBA): Mrs. Ernesta Barlow describes need for women civil service workers in Washington office of U. S. Navy department.

11:30 a. m.—Transatlantic Call (WBBM): Milton Bacon tells whaling love of New Bedford, Mass.

12:30 p. m.—Victory Our Business (WGN): tells of school boys and girls between 14 and 16 running war manufacturing company.

1:15 p. m.—Distinguished Guest Hour (WGN): Col. M. Thomas Tchou, former secretary to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek.

1:30 p. m.—Citizens of Tomorrow (WGN): salute to Palatine Township high school, showing war program of students.

2 p. m.—Encore (WHA): Prof. Lorenz Adolfin in lecture on American government.

2:15 p. m.—World News Parade (WMAQ): Upton Close and guest, William McGaffin, correspondent returned from Cairo.

Music

10:05 a. m.—Bluejacket Choir (WBBM): "Look For the Silver Lining," "Sweet and Low," "Smiles," "My Ideal," "Star Eyes."

11:30 a. m.—Paul Lavalle Orchestra (WMAQ): "Hungarian Dance No. 1," Brahms, "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," "Song of Love," "One Night of Love," "Thousand and One Nights," "Meditation" from "Thais."

1:30 p. m.—John Charles Thomas (WBA): "Ring Out, Wild Bells," "Can't We Be Friends," "I Love You Truly," "Hay Straw," "Should Auld Acquaintance Be Forgotten."

2 p. m.—N. Y. Philharmonic (WBBM): Robert Casadesus, pianist, guest soloist; "March in Time of War," Harris; "Piano Concerto girl war correspondent held captive in Tunis.

3:30 p. m.—Abe Lincoln's story (WGN): "Abraham Lincoln's Inaugural."

5 p. m.—First Nighter (WGN): Barbara Luddy in "The Sailor and the Wave"... Silver Theater (WBBM): Richard Whorf in original drama.

5:30 p. m.—Great Gildersleeve (WIBA): Gildy's ledger for 1943 won't balance.

5:45 p. m.—Little Show (WGN): "Prophetic Coachman."

8 p. m.—Digest (WBBM): Joan Fontaine in "Which Was the Rescuer."

9 p. m.—Cecilia Lawrence (WBBM): with Brian Aherne in A. A. Milne's play, "Michael and Mary."

9:30 p. m.—Thin Man (WBBM): "Murder, Maestro, Please," Nick and Nora try to prevent murder in a dance hall.

11:15 p. m.—Pacific Story (WMAQ): "Hawaii—Crossroads of the Pacific."

Mondaytime

8:30 a. m.—Answering You (WHA): international conversation on wage and price control.

9 a. m.—Sweet River (WLS): new serial with Betty Arnold and Ed Prentiss.

9:15 a. m.—Nelson Olmsted (WMAQ): new daily series of World's Greatest Stories, beginning with "The Signal Man" by Charles Dickens.

9:30 a. m.—Open Door (WBBM): Sandra Michael's story, on new time and station.

12 m.—Elizabeth Hart Presents (WMAQ): Col. Rohland H. Isker telling how the army is kept well fed.

12:15 p. m.—Your Date With Don Norman (WGN): return of program.

3 p. m.—Broadway Matinee (WBBM): guest, Audrey Christie, Broadway musical comedy singer and comedienne.

3:45 p. m.—FTA Forum (WHA): "The Child Reacts to Wartime Living," discussed by Carl Waller, director of child study department of Madison schools.

4:30 p. m.—Malcolm Claire (WBBM): begins series of stories on life of Benjamin Franklin.

4:45 p. m.—American Women (WBBM): presents story of WAC who received soldier's medal for bravery.

5:15 p. m.—To Your Health (WBBM): Jan Pearce, guest: "I'll See You Again," "Oh Dear, What Can the Matter Be," "Song of Songs."

Retiring, Holcomb Named Full General

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—Lieut. Gen. Thomas Holcomb was rewarded Saturday for 43 years of service to the marine corps, including leading it through the dark days of Pearl Harbor and past the turning point at Guadalcanal—by being made the first full general in marine corps history.

Holcomb became a full general upon his retirement, previously announced, which became effective Saturday. His successor, Lieut. Gen. Alexander A. Vandegrift, was sworn in Saturday morning in Secretary of Navy Frank Knox's office.

Farm Pair, 2 Fliers Die in Plane Crash

VINCENNES, Ind. (U.P.)—Four persons, including a farmer and his wife, were killed Thursday when a two-motored army training plane crashed into a farmhouse near here and burst into flames.

All four were burned to death. They were Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Joseph Gowen, owners of the farm, who were in the house, and Capt. Harry C. App. Van Nuys, Calif., and Harry C. Ericke, Philadelphia, of the plane crew.

The 5-year-old daughter of the Gowens suffered painful burns but physicians said her condition was not serious.

The plane was on a training flight from George Field. Army officials did not release other details, although they said a board has been appointed to investigate the crash.

Variety

3 p. m.—Fun Valley (WBBM): Al Pearce and Gang, with Ed and Zeb, comedians, guests; "Swing Out Wild Bells," "Auld Lang Syne," "Shining Hour."

4 p. m.—Fireside Party (WGN): dramatization of how two men destroy a German machine gun nest; Griff Williams orchestra and mixed chorus.

5 p. m.—Radio Hall of Fame (WCEL): George Burns and Gracie Allen, Raymond Gram Swing, Georgia Gibbs, blues singer; Willie Howard, comedian; Deems Taylor, narrator; Paul Whitman's orchestra, "Valencia," and "Oklahoma."

6 p. m.—Jack Benny (WIBA): has New Year's celebration.

7 p. m.—Bergen and McCarthy (WBA): Jane Powell, singer, and Charlie Ruggles, comedian, guests... Jerry Lester Show (WBBM) with Anna Stern.

8:30 p. m.—Fred Allen (WBBM): guest, Albert Spalding, violinist.

Drama

1 p. m.—Casting Unlimited (WBBM): "Custody of the Cook," 2:30 p. m.—Hot Copy (WBBM):

DAILY CROSSWORD

1. Proportion	3. Convert into	22. System of signals
5. Fellow	4. Large worm	23. Loss of sense of smell
9. Rodents (So. Am.)	5. Amulet	24. Decay
10. Employed	6. Beehive	24. Decay
12. English school (poss.)	7. Awns of rye	25. Work
13. Information	8. Annoy	26. Worshipped
14. Ventilate	9. Freedom	27. Color
15. Quickly	10. from war	28. Stuffed
16. Adjust	11. Movable barriers	29. Beginning
19. Thrice (mus.)	15. Peel into	31. Reverse of a coin
	17. Wade, as a river	32. Lift
	18. Grampus	34. Dispatch
		37. Sea eagle
		38. Sheltered side

20. Type measure

21. Abounding

22. Vehicles

23. Portion of curved line

24. Spawn of fish

25. Disembark

26. Gun (slang)

27. Italian river

28. Fuss

29. Long practiced

30. Studded

31. Public notices

32. Ear shell

33. Leave out, as a syllable

34. Bridle straps

35. Set again

36. Lower part of wall

37. Require

DOWN

1. To allot

2. Fruit of the oak

CRYPTOQUOTE—A cryptogram quotation

G M B V Q M G D W B O S Q