Ziedler's Brother to Run for Mayor

MILWAUKEE -(U.P.)-Frank P. Zeidler, 31-year old brother of Lieut. Carl F. Ziedler, Milwaukee's mayor on leave who has been missing at sea for more than a year, today was in the race as a Socialist candidate for mayor in the 1944 election.

Zeidler's candidacy was anannounced by Stanley Budny, Socialist party city and county chairman. Zeidler was an unsuccessful candidate for governor on the Socialist ticket in 1942, and has been a Milwaukee school board director since 1941, and is employed in the engineering department of the Milwaukee road.

How could men cross deep snow without sinking far down in their tracks?

That question was answered in northern Europe with the ski. On this continent it was answered by the snowshoe.

No one can tell who invented snowshoes. They may have been made first by Eskimos or by Indians. It also is possible that tribesmen in northern Asia were the inventors. In any case, the first white men to reach North America found Indians using snowshoes almost everywhere that winter brought deep snow. When explorers reached northern Canada, they learned that Eskimos had snow- Stretching across the frame were In northeastern Asia, it is com-
