see London. They are Burney K Dickinson and his wife, Mary, of the WACs, who had been separated for 17 months.

A casual dinner conversation between their commanding officers resulted in the reunion. Burney's commanding officer was telling about life in Iceland where they had been stationed and mentioned Corp. Dickinson from Des Moines. Mary's commanding officer remarked that the name and city were familiar.

They were brought together and given two days off for a "second honcymoon." Mary said it would be better than the first because after seven months experience as a mess cook she knows she won't burn the toast this time.
