

"The Man From Down Under" Opens Thursday At State

New slang by the Australians and new laughs by Gildersleeve will be coveting on the screen of the State theatre starting Thursday...

Relating the tale of the courage and endeavor of the Russians, "North Star" is now playing at the Ohio theatre.

The reason for this spring-like weather can no doubt be blamed on "The Heat's On" which is now showing at the Quilna.

Two new features promise entertainment at the Sigma; namely, "Danger, Women at Work" and "Openin' Up."

Opening Thursday at the Lyric will be "Law of the Saddle" and "Torture Ship" while "Redhead From Manhattan" and "Desert Victory" end their run Wednesday evening.

OHIO - Hollywood's first serious attempt to bring to the American screen the dramatic story of Russia's heroic stand against the Nazis...

Lillian Hellman's original screen play spotlights with documentary impact and authenticity the motivating spirit of the Russian heroism that has thrilled and inspired the world still free.

For her setting, Miss Hellman, author of "The Little Foxes" and "The Children's Hour," chose a small contemporary village near the Soviet-Bessarabian border.

The story opens 48 hours before the Nazi invasion of June 22, 1941. The picture's complete cast numbers more than a thousand...

Lewis Milestone, noted for vigorous realism, directed "The North Star," and William Cameron Menzies acted as associate producer.

LYRIC - Bob Livingston has been forging ahead as one of the popular western stars in the series in which he is featured as the Lone Rider.

The current picture, "Law of the Saddle," opens Thursday at the Lyric theatre. His teammate is the funny old-timer, Al "Fuzzy" St. John...

St. John, who has made his alfalfa beard one of the most familiar identifying marks possessed by a screen player.

Co-featured will be "Torture Ship." Closing Tuesday night are "Redhead From Manhattan" and "Desert Victory."

QUILNA - In the entire script of "The Heat's On," sizzling musical extravaganza now playing at the Quilna theatre, Mae West never once uses her trademark phrase, "Come up and see me sometime!"

But during rehearsals, Gregory Ratoff, producer-director, secretly gave the line to Ray Nyles, an actor in a scene with Mae, as a rib.

When the time came for Nyles to say it, he became flustered and blew the line.

"That's stormed the impetuous Ratoff, is why I stopped being an actor!"

WILLKIE MAY SEEK DELEGATES IN OHIO VOTE

CLEVELAND, Jan. 26 (AP)—There is an even chance Wendell L. Willkie may seek convention delegates for the Republican presidential nomination in several Northern Ohio districts...

The Cleveland industrialist, who recently conferred in New York with Willkie's advisors, said the Hoosier presidential aspirant might vie with Gov. John W. Bricker in Cleveland, Youngstown, Akron, Oberlin, Toledo and other northern districts.

Willkie probably will announce within a few days whether he will enter Ohio's presidential primary, Weaver said.

WILKINSON RENEWS PLEA FOR SESSION

VAN WERT, Jan. 26 (UP)—State Rep. Robert A. Wilkinson, R., Van Wert, today again called attention to Governor Bricker of the need for an immediate session of the Ohio legislature to revise present statutes to permit absentee soldier voting.

"Even now, the delay has been such that there is a serious doubt of proper revision being made in time to permit such voting in the primary election," Wilkinson said in a letter to Bricker.

LAUSCHE DECISION PREDICTED SUNDAY

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 26 (INS)—Mayor Frank Lausche of Cleveland is expected to announce his decision regarding his possible entry in the Democratic gubernatorial primary Sunday...

Lausche will give the principle address at the memorial dinner Sunday in Cleveland which winds up the league's annual two-day state convention. He may announce his decision at that time, Groves said.

S.O.S. We Need Bottles and Cases! The W. P. D. has drastically reduced the manufacture of beer bottles for the brewing industry, and there have been no boxes or cartons available for many months. Result—we are without cases several days each week, which could be filled and delivered to your supplier. The shortage of beer has been serious for months, and it is now further aggravated by this new condition. Search your cellars, garages, and all other places where you might have beer bottles and cases stored. Return them to your supplier immediately, otherwise it may be still more difficult for you to get beer in the months to come. Return Your Cases And Bottles Today! Thompson Distributors 201 S.
