Sea And Prairies Provide Background In Sigma Films

The sea and the prairies, background of many adventures, are the settings for the forthcoming Sigma attractions, "Ghost Ship" and "Empty Holsters," opening Wednesday. Showing for the last times Tuesday are "Women in Bondage" and "Swingtime Johnny."

John Wayne and Martha Scott are the featured performers in the current Quilna attraction, "In Old Oklahoma," in which Albert Dekker heads the supporting cast.

A host of entertainment talent is included in the film, "Thousands Cheer," now being screened at the Ohio theatre. A romance moves along in the background-

One of the best stories of the year typifying the gallant struggle of the underground in Nazioppressed countries is told in "Hostages," now offered at the State. A comedy interlude, Whistling in Brooklyn" stars Red Skel-

The current billing of the Lyric theatre lists, "She Has What It Takes," starring Jinx Falkenburg and "Passport to Suez," starring Warren William.
