Income Tax Information

TRADES AND EXCHANGES

Among the forms of transactions to which consideration must be given in preparing a Federal income tax return are trades and exchanges of property. When a person receives goods for services, as in the case of a workman taking groceries for wages, or a lawyer receiving securities for professional services, a question of income tax liability arises. It also arises when a farmer trades farm produce for services or goods, such as groceries or farm equipment, or when cattle or farms or other property is traded. It arises frequently in security transactions particularly in reorganizations, where one form of security is exchanged for another form of security of the same or a different corporation. All such transactions may give rise to taxable gain.

In the case where a taxpayer exchanges his services for goods or property—for instance, a carpenter who puts up shelves for a grocer and is paid in groceries—the fair market value of the goods or property received is considered as ordinary income and should be reported in item 1 (Wages, salaries, etc.) of either short Form 1040A or long Form 1040. Taxpayers who have income from any other kind of trade or exchange must use long Form 1040. If farm produce is exchanged for merchandise, groceries, or the like, the market value of the articles received in exchange is to be included in gross income. In this instance, if a farmer traded cabbages for $10 worth of harness, he should include the $10 in his farm income, and the cost of raising the cabbages will be included in the farm expenses used in determining net income from the farm business. Where property is exchanged for property of another kind, or for services, the transaction may give rise to a capital gain or loss if the property exchanged is a capital asset, reportable in Schedule B, item 6 (a) of the return

IMAGINE THIS IN CALIFORNIA

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 22—(INS)—A soaked and shivering Los Angeles, hit by its worst winter storm since two inches of snow fell in January, 1932, looked today to still more rain or hail.

Two inches of hail which fell yesterday whitened the streets and gave the appearance of a bleak wintry scene as automobiles cut ruts thru the frozen rain. In 24 hours 4.80 inches of rain were recorded.

To this "unusual" Southern California weather was added a terrific thunderstorm, with flashing lightning bolts and thunderclaps loud enough to rattle dishes in cupboards in some sections of the city.

Streets were flooded and scores of automobiles were stalled. Approximately 30 streetcars stood helpless, their armatures water-soaked.

DAYTON, O., Feb. 22—(AP)—Carroll Sprigg, 66, well-known Dayton attorney, died here unexpectedly. He had served as United States consular general and diplomatic agent in Egypt from 1920 to 1922.

Bill is like the "Errand Boy" that serves 130,000,000 Americans

BILL is Sam Tucker's errand boy... and a good one. But more than that, he is a living symbol of American railroads. For the railroads are the giant "errand boys" of the nation... delivering goods to 130,000,000 Americans.

When Bill grows older... enters business... he will call on the giant "errand boy" for help. His requirements will be strict. Service must squarely meet his demands. He will find his needs have been anticipated... will be well-cared for by railroads like the Baltimore & Ohio.

Fully mobilized for war, we are planning for peace. Knowledge gained in war-time operation will be projected into even better service for the years ahead. B & O, the giant "errand boy" operating over 11,000 miles of track, will be ready and willing to serve America well in the busy years of post-war.
