Kyser Broadcast Will Come From Point Mign

Airing radio's first broadcast from a Quonset hut, Kay Kyser and his "College of Musical Knowledge" do their program from one of the large houses when they visit the U. S. Navy base at Point Migu, Calif. on Wednesday at 9 p. m., EST, over station WEAF.

One of history's fiery romances, that of Antony and Cleopatra, will provide the dramatic key to fame and fortune for one of the trio of amateurs chosen to participate in "Star for a Night" Wednesday at BLAST KILLS YOUNG BRIDE WASHINGTON, March 8—(AP) house" Wednesday, WEAF, 10:30 p. m., EST. "Mr. District Attorney" and his chief special investigator, Harrington, enter, with guns drawn, an apartment where they've been told they'll find a dangerous criminal. Instead, they find a wailing infant, in "The Case of the Aban-doned Baby," on Wednesday, at 3:30 p. m., over station WEAF. From there on, they divide their time between playing nursemaid and cherchezing la femme, with the quest for the mother leading them into strange adventures. Jay Jostyn, Len Doyle and Vicki Vola are the stars. A woman comes to "Mr. and Mrs. North" asks them to protect her husband, who has been threatened with death, and "The Norths Refuse a Case," on Wednesday, at 7 p. m., over station WEAF. When the husband comes in and tells them to disregard his wife's pleas, the Norths suddenly take an interest in the case, and that interest is intensified when the man topples over dead in their apart-ment. Then the wife denies ever having seen the Norths before, and they find themselves in the middle of a first-class mystery. Joseph Curtin and Alice Frost play the title roles.
