

Joan Davis Visits Former Boy-Friend Thursday Night

When Joan Davis gets a letter from a former boy friend now stationed at the Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point, Long Island, from where the "Joan Davis Show with Jack Haley" broadcasts Thursday, over WJAF at 8:30 p. m., EST, the comedienne decides that since she is in New York it would be a good idea to pay her former beau a visit.

Lynn Gardner, glamorous young singer from Will Bradley's band, will lend her talents to "Here's To Romance" Thursday at 9:30 p. m., EST, over WABC, when she joins Harry Cool and Ray Bloch's orchestra in 30 minutes of music and song.

Known to vaudeville and musical comedy as Dolores Keane, Mrs. Bob Hope will grace the program of "The Arkansas Traveler," Bob Burns, Thursday (WEAF, 6:30 p. m., EST).

Mrs. Hope accompanied her husband on several camp tours, and some memories of rousing receptions by Uncle Sam's fighting men are expected to be echoed on the Thursday broadcast.

For once Homer proves Henry's good angel in "The Aldrich Family" Thursday (WEAF, 7:30 p. m., EST). Henry's efforts to retrieve Mary's umbrella and pocketbook after a small boy disappeared with them prove unavailing until Homer adds his masterly touch to the sleuthing.

FINLAND, OUR OIL MARKET

PLOESTI AREA PUT UNDER MARTIAL LAW

LONDON, March 30 — (INB) — Ploesti, site of rich oil fields which are one of the prizes to be gained by continuance of the current Red army drives against Rumania, was reported under martial law today.

Moscow dispatches, quoted by Reuters, said that the German occupational authorities clamped military law upon the Rumanian oil center as the Soviet armies pressed steadily across Bessarabia and massed on the Prut river for a surge deep into the Balkans.
