Galaxy Of Stars Appears On State Screen Thursday

One of the greatest collection of stars ever to appear in one motion picture was assembled for "Flesh and Fantasy" which opens Thursday at the State theatre. The film combines a dream world with realism and provides unusual entertainment. Sharing the billing will be "Mine Sweeper." Playing for the last times Wednesday night are "Desert Song" and "Moonlight in Vermont."

Two performances of the Westinghouse Greater Minstrels are slated for 2:30 p. m. and 8:30 p. m. Wednesday at the Ohio theatre. The current film offering there is "Passage to Marseille."

"The Sullivans" is the title of the heroic drama now projected on the screen of the Quilna. Sharing billing at the Sigma are "Three Russian Girls" and "Guns of the Law." Two thrillers are now co-billed at the Lyric under the titles of "Hands Across the Border" and "Tiger Fangs."

OHIO

Local talent will take over the stage of the Ohio theatre at 2.30 p. m. Wednesday when the Westinghouse Greater Minstrels will be presented by employes of the Lima plant, Stubby Williams and his band will provide music for the occasion and end men will be those famous gagsters, Hap Vossler, Georgie Williams, and Ed Bonham. Tickets are now available at the box office at regular stage show prices. The film now playing at the theatre is "Passage to Marseille" with Humphrey Bogart.
