Women Favor Felt as Material For Their Hats

Felt is the most popular kind of material for hats, and this has been true since ancient times.

Felt is a kind of cloth made from fur, hair or wool. The fibers are matted together, being pressed and rolled instead of being woven.

In times past, many hats were made of felt matted with fur taken from beavers. Today such felt is rare. You might look a long time without finding a hat with felt made entirely of beaver fur.

The rabbit is the animal which now provides most of the hair for felt. France has been an important center of the rabbit fur which has gone into felt.

In Australia, rabbits raise themselves, as we may say. They swarm over the island continent, and it is hard to get rid of them.

Since Pearl Harbor, the American industry of producing felt hats has produced 140,000 tanks and other combat vehicles, 1,200,000 military trucks, 425,000 pieces of artillery, and 1,160,000 rounds of artillery ammunition.

What river in all the world has the greatest amount of tonnage passing through it? The Delaware River.
