Ginger Stars In Another Typical U. S. Girl Picture

Coming thru with another typical American girl picture Ginger Rogers will appear in 'Tender Comrade' starting Friday at the Ohio theatre. The film is the story of any girl whose husband has gone to war and how they live in the past with hopes for the future. This picture gave Ginger the title of 'Chin Up Girl' and is truly an outstanding release. "Broadway Rhythm" closes Thursday night.

Currently showing at the Quilna are "The Fighting Seabees" and "My Best Gal."

Timely and amusing is "You Can't Ration Love" now co-billed with "Slightly Terrific" at the Sigma.

'Woman of the Town' and "Passport to Destiny" are now at the State.

The new billing at the Lyric includes "Riders of the Northwest Mounted" and "Buried Alive."

Opening Friday at the Majestic will be "Coastal Command" and "Laugh Your Blues Away."

Playing for the last times at the Lima Drive-In theatre Thursday night is "Dangerous Blondes" with "Pittsburgh" slated to start Friday night.

QUILNA

Part of the battle sequence in the picture "The Fighting Seabees" now showing at the Quilna theatre shows for the first time an airfield being repaired under fire. This is one particular bit of work for which the Seabees are justly famed and it was felt by producer and director alike that it should be incorporated in the film.

Audiences thus are given the opportunity of seeing bombs striking the metal striped runway, and the Seabee crew dashing out onto the field replacing the damaged sections just as the work is done under actual combat conditions.

Altho work of this nature has been going on since the newly developed fields of the South Pacific have been under fire, there have been no actual films taken revealing the method of the damage control crews at repair work.

Heading the cast of the picture are John Wayne, lovely Susan Hayward and Dennis O'Keefe.

Co-billed is "My Best Gal."

OHIO

An American girl's war time romance is the structure upon which the plot of 'Tender Comrade,' Ginger Rogers' latest starring picture has been built.

With Robert Ryan as her leading man the Academy Award winning star is said to have her most sympathetic role to date as the resolute and vital Jo heroine of the drama opening Friday at the Ohio.

The story opens with Chris sent away and with Jo working in a defense plant. Her recollections of their life together are adroitly interwoven with her current problem of finding a place to live, a problem she solves by joining some service wife friends in renting an old house and engaging a housekeeper. What happens to Jo and her friends there and how she relives her romance to its poignant climax forms the absorbing action of the drama.

Ruth Hussey, Patricia Collinge and Kim Hunter are featured as Jo's fellow workers while Mady Christians plays the housekeeper.

"Broadway Rhythm" closes Thursday night.

BRICKER VISIT LISTED

HARTFORD, Conn. May 18 — (INS) Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio, candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, will visit Connecticut Saturday, June 3, Gov. Raymond E. Baldwin and J. Kenneth Bradley, Republican state chairman, announced today.

Adolphe Menjou Will Guest On "Joan Davis Program"

Adolphe Menjou will be the guest on the Joan Davis Program With Jack Haley' on Thursday, at 9:30 p. m., EWT, over WEAF when the show will originate at the Army Air Forces Base at March Field, Calif.

Joan will be involved in her usual complications when she receives an invitation to appear with Menjou only to find that the invitation should have gone to Bette Davis. Meanwhile, Jack Haley has offered his vaudeville troupe to Menjou and so the entire cast, including Blossom (Verna Felton) Blimp and Penny (Sharon Douglas) Cartwright journey to the air base.

Lord Cregar whose flair for cinema criminology would cause even an owl to blink, will visit Abbot and Costello' Thursday, over WEAF at 10 p. m., EWT.

Pettie Connie Haines, Freddie Richs orchestra, Elvia Allman, Mel Blanc and Ken Niles complete the cast.

Bing Crosby has invited Jack Carson and Eddie Marr to be his guests on his show next Thursday at 9 p. m. (FWT) over WEAF. The popular radio comedy team paid a visit to KMH this fall but missed the groaner who was away on a bond selling tour.
