

Andy Has Major Engagement With U. S. Sailor Friday

Andrew H. Brown runs a foul of the United States Navy, in the person of one of Uncle Sam's husky sea-dogs, on the Amos 'n' Andy broadcast of Friday at 10 p. m., EWT, over WEA. It all comes about when the romantic Andy begins maneuvers in the vicinity of the sailor's girl. The Harlem Lothario soon finds himself in deep—and hot—water, and if there's any fleet involved, it refers to Andy's footwork after he gets the sailor's steam up!

At any rate, they throw out the laugh-line to listeners from start to finish!

Jimmy Durante says the way Garry Moore lets people push him around he must come from a long line of wheelbarrows. Moore pays no mind because he's busy writing a song called, "I Don't Trust Jimmy Durante and Have No Watch to Prove It." But the two will have plenty to say to each other in a joking sort of way when they get together before a WABC microphone Friday at 10 p. m., EWT.

Adding lustre to the broadcast will be the singing of Georgia Gibbs and Roy Bargy's orchestra. "The Dream of the Woman Who Came Back," a war correspondent's dream of D-Day and of a woman of the French Underground who comes out of hiding to help the invading Allied troops, is the dramatic story to be told on "We Who Dream," Friday at 7:15 p. m., over Station WABC. Claire Niesen, radio's dream voice, will be heard as the woman, in this unusual story, written by Milton Geiger.

What apparently is becoming an annual Memorial Day affair—the presentation of R. E. Danielson's "Corporal Hardy" on "Authors Playhouse" will be repeated Friday (WEAF, 11:30 p. m., EWT). Corporal Hardy, a Civil War veteran trying to do his part as a farmer, passes on to a little boy the inspiration which has been a part of his life and his purpose in living.

Tenor Frank Munn and the Amsterdam chorus present a special arrangement of the oldie, "I'll Get By," on WEA's "Walz Time" Friday (9 p. m., EWT).

GARDENERS ADVISED ABOUT PERENNIALS

COLUMBUS, O., May 26 (AP)—Gardeners who have purchased high-priced perennial plants were advised today to cut them back severely before setting them permanently in flower beds. "Late-planted perennials that are well in leaf," said Victor H. Ries of the horticulture department at Ohio State university, "will do much better if the tops are reduced. They should be cut back to meet the reduced amount of roots you are planting."

CELINA COUNCIL PETITIONS DITCH

CELINA, May 26—Mercer county commissioners are holding a hearing on Friday on the proposed work on the Carter ditch which has been petitioned by Celina. Purpose of the ditch improvement will be to drain away storm water from Celina more quickly, in an effort to lessen basement and street flooding. In a recent survey, Paul Uhlman, engineer, said the ditch improvements would not be a cure-all but should be the first step in relieving conditions here.
