

HIT THE RIVET, SISTER

By Ann Pendleton

The real-life adventures of a society girl who goes to work in a war plant.

tell them you want to rivet like all the others. "That is, if you won't apply for inspecting as you ought to," he had added. Inspecting, it seemed, was vastly much more desirable...

"What I want to do is drill!"

finished our intelligence and aptitude tests. What we were waiting for next, we didn't know. Interview, I supposed; I had been thru the mill before and knew the procedure.

It had been a little different, tho, those other times. We'd been taken out in a clump from Simpson's, with Mr. Symes herding us along and booming out to everyone that we were "the pick of the first graduating Simpson women."

"For Pete's sake, Miss Pendleton, don't tell them that," my instructor had told me, "only a very low mentality wants to drill!"

"No, you can't go barefooted! You're supposed to be ladies!"

HOLD EVERYTHING

Mr. Curtin was looking at me as, no doubt, the about-to-be-commissioned came looked at the thousand first straw. It wouldn't be possible for him to classify me any lower in the mental scale, I decided, and heard myself, in a strange tragedy-queen voice, give my heart's cry. "What I want to do is drill!"

Mr. Curtin, I think, was sick to death of me. Mr. Curtin was longing for the bright flowered blouses, the rayon slacks of my fellow-applicants. Mr. Curtin, I realized afterwards, didn't really give a damn. And what Mr. Curtin's voice was saying was, "Okay, sister, okay. But you start in inspecting. Then you can change over and be a riveter."

I had won my point. Not only my dog and my suitcase must journey with me but my new green toolbox, my shining and splendid tools! Friday now, Monday was hardly soon enough.
