

'Henry Aldrich, Cupid,' Opens On Wednesday At Sigma

Even the title is amusing, therefore, "Henry Aldrich, Cupid" which opens Wednesday at the Sigma theatre should be a laugh getter of the first degree along with the rest of the series.

Currently appearing at the Ohio is "See Here, Private Hargrove" with Robert Walker as the much beleaguered private of the Army.

Music and the rhythm of war workers come from the sound track at the Quilna where "Trocaadero" and "Rosie the Riveter" are now playing.

Masculine Humphrey Bogart vies with spaghetti eater Frank Sinatra for top honors at the State where their respective films "Passage to Marseille" and "Higher and Higher" are now offered.

One of the immortal books of this war provides the story for "Guadalcanal Diary" which is screened along with "What a Woman" at the Lyric.

Opening Wednesday at the Lima Drive-In will be "The Heat's On" with "Top Man" playing for the last times Tuesday night.

Producer Walter Colmes is a firm believer in catering to the wide range of public taste. He maintains that many musicals fall short of their potentialities because they dish up music that appeals to a limited group of people.

In "Trocaadero," musical biography of the famous Hollywood night-club, at the Quilna, Colmes has four orchestras creating four different types of music.

Rosemary Lane, Dick Purcell, and Johnny Downs play the leads and are ably supported by Ralph Morgan, Sheldon Leonard, Marjorie Manners, The Radio Rogues, The Stardusters, Ida James, and Winky Mannone.

Sharing the program is "Rosie the Riveter."

Their story told to the thunder of battle and screened to the cheers of victory, the United States Marines, the first guys to smack down the Japs, are at the Lyric in the thrilling picturization of Richard Tregaskis' "Guadalcanal Diary."

Preston Foster, Lloyd Nolan, Williams Bendix, Richard Conte and Anthony Quinn, heading a great cast, give unforgettable portrayals in a film which flames with unmatchable drama.

The picture was directed by Lewis Seiler, from a screen play by Lamar Trotti.

Co-billed is "What a Woman" with "Roz" Russell.

NEW SWEEPER IS APPROVED BY COUNCIL

The city will buy a modern street sweeper at a price of $7,000 if it priorities can be obtained.

City council Monday night approved a bid of Elgin Sweeper Co. of Elgin, Ill., the only one received by Mayor William L. Ferguson.

The new sweeper, Mayor Ferguson declared, will go far toward keeping Lima's streets clean and will replace a lighter sweeper which is out of repair and not of the modern type.

Delivery is expected by September.

The new sweeper is of the motor pick-up type, complete with non clogging open bottom elevator, lighting equipment, electric starter, heavy duty pneumatic truck tires and tubes, with a short turning diameter of 28 feet, dirt box with capacity of two and a half cubic yards with discharge of load at the front of the machine.

Mayor Ferguson said that he had been informed that 34 Ohio cities use the Elgin 20 sweeper in addition to Wright and Patterson

LIQUOR BUYERS TOLD TO TEAR UP SLIPS COLUMBUS, June 13 (UP)—State Liquor Director Don A. Fisher today advised Ohio liquor purchasers to tear up slips presented to store cashiers in event the store does not have the particular brand of liquor being sought.

Fisher said there was a strong possibility that slips made out by purchasers were being held by some store employees and used later when the brand called for on the ticket becomes available at the store.
