

Dewey Listed For Campaign Address Saturday Evening

In his first radio political speech since his tour of the Far West and Southwest, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, Republican presidential candidate, will be heard over WEAF Saturday, as he makes a campaign address in Charleston 8 to 8:30 p. m., Lima time.

Dewey will be introduced by Walter S. Hallahan, Republican national committeeman and chairman of the committee on arrangements at the last summer's GOP convention in Chicago.

Emergence of Magna Charta as the first great forward step toward liberty and freedom for the English-speaking peoples is related Friday, in the first episode of the University of the Air series, "We Came This Way" over WEAF at 10:30 p. m.

Morton Wisengrad's drama details the sufferings imposed on the English people by King John and tells how, in November, 1214, Baron Robert Fitz-Walter and Stephen Langton, Archbishop of Canterbury, evoked the barons, drew Magna Charta. On June 15, 1215, the King put his seal to it. In this great charter were planted the seeds of liberty, of English freedom and ultimately the American Bill of Rights.

Gregory Ratoff, motion picture director and actor whose tongue-twisting entanglements with the English language have won him almost as much fame as his artistry, will be the next guest star on the Amos 'n' Andy show, Friday at 9 p. m., over WEAF.

The king's English finally gets a break in "Duffy's Tavern" when Nigel Bruce, who is Sherlock Holmes' Dr. Watson on screen and radio, drops in to see Ed (Arch) Gardner on Friday over WEAF at 7:30 p. m.

But, just to make sure that "English as she spoke" doesn't get the upper hand in the proceedings, Miss Duffy (Florence Robinson) will be on hand.

Hollywood And Radio Split

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 6.—The shotgun wedding of radio and motion pictures a few years back resulted in a marriage which no one has ever been able to call happy. Now, faced with adoption of a growing child named television, radio and motion pictures are straining at the halter harder than ever and there's even talk of a divorce.

There's no doubt, that Hollywood is viewing with alarm the fact that television is ready, will break commercially and nationally in the post-war world of tomorrow.

Film studios look at television strictly as competition, and already have widened the break with radio, with new regulations discouraging the guest starring practice. Radio executives see in new rules a direct attempt to "weaken the radio structure" so that its position will not be too impregnable with the advent of television.

Hollywood's radio regulations include a minimum cost of $3,000 for film scripts, blacklisting of certain programs held to be of questionable value to film stars, and insistence on greater control of players and their radio material.

Fears in Hollywood that television will injure motion pictures are ungrounded, according to radio people.

But Hollywood, as usual, is taking no chances just in case television does become an entertainment Frankenstein monster. Paramount has invested thousands of dollars in its own television company, other studios are tied in with television financially and will undoubtedly play along when the new medium becomes commercial. The present fight seems to be against the radio networks, the studio preferring to control their own television companies if so-called entertainment does sweep the country.

After the war, television hopes to become a $3,000,000,000 industry, although radio executives don't expect it to reach full maturity before another five or six years.

Television entertainment will fall into three categories—motion pictures, outside programs such as sports and news events and live talent studio programs. Stock companies are now being organized for the shows and possibly pictures. From these stock companies radio networks will film motion pictures for television—if Hollywood fails to get on the band wagon.

Motion pictures are still the best television material. Hollywood knows this—and still hasn't made up its mind whether it likes it or not.

SENDS $10 TO POLICE

CHICAGO (UP)—The city's police benefit fund is $10 richer because of a letter received by Police Commissioner James P. Allman containing that amount and the following note: "Enclosed find $10 for restitution for things I took from the department that did not belong to me." The letter was unsigned.

RECORD CROWD ATTENDS 89TH PUTNAM-CO FAIR

Attendance For Thursday Session Is Estimated At 35,000

(Lima News Bureau)

OTTAWA, Oct. 6.—Activities continued at the Putnam-co Fair here Friday after what may have been a record crowd for the 89th year history of the exposition that packed the fairgrounds Thursday. The Thursday attendance was estimated unofficially at more than 35,000.

One of the highlights Friday will be the playing of an all-county band made up of the 10 high schools of the county. The closing night fair program will be held Friday with the 89th fair ending with the Saturday afternoon program which includes a full harness racing schedule.

Official figures on gate receipts for Thursday were not available at once but nearly 10,000 paid admission during the day. Free admission to children under high school age and the additional admissions Thursday night boosted the attendance to a probable record level.

Officials announced the attendance Wednesday totaled about 4,500 for day and night programs. The gate receipts totaled 2,524, the grandstand receipts 1,888 and 325 automobile tickets were sold to give the fair board receipts totaling $2,186.25 for a gain of $875.40 over the Wednesday receipts for Wednesday.

In the baby health contest sponsored by the Ottawa Elkanis club and conducted by the Putnam-co health department, 24 babies were judged.

First place in the six months to one year group was awarded to one year old Clark Galloway, 11-month old son of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Galloway of near Meadville, with second place going to Sharon Kaufman, nine month old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Kaufman of Lehigh. In the three to six months group, first place was won by Ellen Kuhlman, five-month old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kuhlman of Lehigh. Second place was awarded to Carol Lou McKelvey, three-month old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer McKelvey of Lehigh.

Receipts of the adult and juvenile groups were announced Thursday. Manahan said he never had a better group of awards exhibits or a group so closely contested in his 21 years of judging experience as the ones competing at the Putnam-co fair here.

In the adult class, Sharon Grange was judged first, with 94 points, while Pandora was second, with 92.5 points. Third, with 94, and while Pandora was fourth, with 92.5, and Lilian sixth, with 90.

The juvenile group found Pandora placing first and Lehigh second. In the sheep judging, the following topped first places and championships: Royal Brothers, six firsts and champion Merline ram and ewe; Haininger and Miller, 18 firsts and champion Delaine ram and ewe; French Melton and Rainbolt, ram and ewe and Southdown ram and ewe; Haininger, Litten, three firsts and champion Shropshire, roan ram and ewe; Kimmery and Roth, one first, and Colleen Bryan, one first.

Positive judging resulted in 115 firsts going to Carl Peters of Columbus Grove, 14 firsts to John Pever of Kallida, nine firsts to Roy John McLehner of Holgate and two firsts to Albert Eyer of Kallida.

Judging in the ewe show resulted in the following Amos A. Futerbrink of Lehigh Route 2, one first.

MAYOR LAUSCHE MAKES ECONOMY PLEDGE IN TALK

(Lima News Bureau)

OTTAWA, Oct. 6.—Assuring the rural residents of Putnam-co and the rest of Ohio that he will do "everything in my power" to economize in the expenditure of your hard-earned tax dollars if he is elected governor of Ohio Nov. 7, Mayor Frank J. Lausche of Cleveland addressed a group of about 60 candidates and Democratic committeemen and women at a luncheon meeting in the Putnam House here Thursday.

The Democratic candidate for governor arrived from Norwalk for the luncheon accompanied by Mrs. Lausche. Later they attended the Putnam-co fair where the mayor spoke briefly. He praised the men and women who remained on farms such as those in Putnam-co rather than hurry off to "more lucrative" jobs in the cities during the war emergency.

Mayor Lausche left Ottawa late in the afternoon for an address at Van Wert and another at Dayton later Thursday.

ADA PRISONER IS LIBERATED, ARRIVES HOME

ADA, Oct. 6.—S. Sgt. George A. Deringer arrived home this week for a 30-day furlough after being released as a German prisoner in Romania recently. He is at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ora Deringer here. He arrived in the states a week ago.

One of the over 1,000 Yank airmen liberated when Romania recently joined the Allies, he states he is all right. He said that he was one of his crew who bailed out when the plane was shot down. He had been based in Italy and was with a bomber crew when forced down over the Balkan country.
