

LIMA THEATRE MARQUEES BOAST SEASON'S TOP FILMS

MOVIES HERE ARE GOING ALONG WITH RAPID PROGRESS OF CITY

Lima has just about hit the peak of everything. Slowly but surely this fair city is climbing from the ranks of the lesser known into the better known. The marquees of the theatres this Saturday show that better and better films are reaching movie audiences and are indeed appreciated.

One of the name bands of the country is holding the spotlight at the Ohio theatre Monday and that is no other than Charlie Spivak. This is one of the many surprise features the Ohio theatre will be having during the course of the next few months.

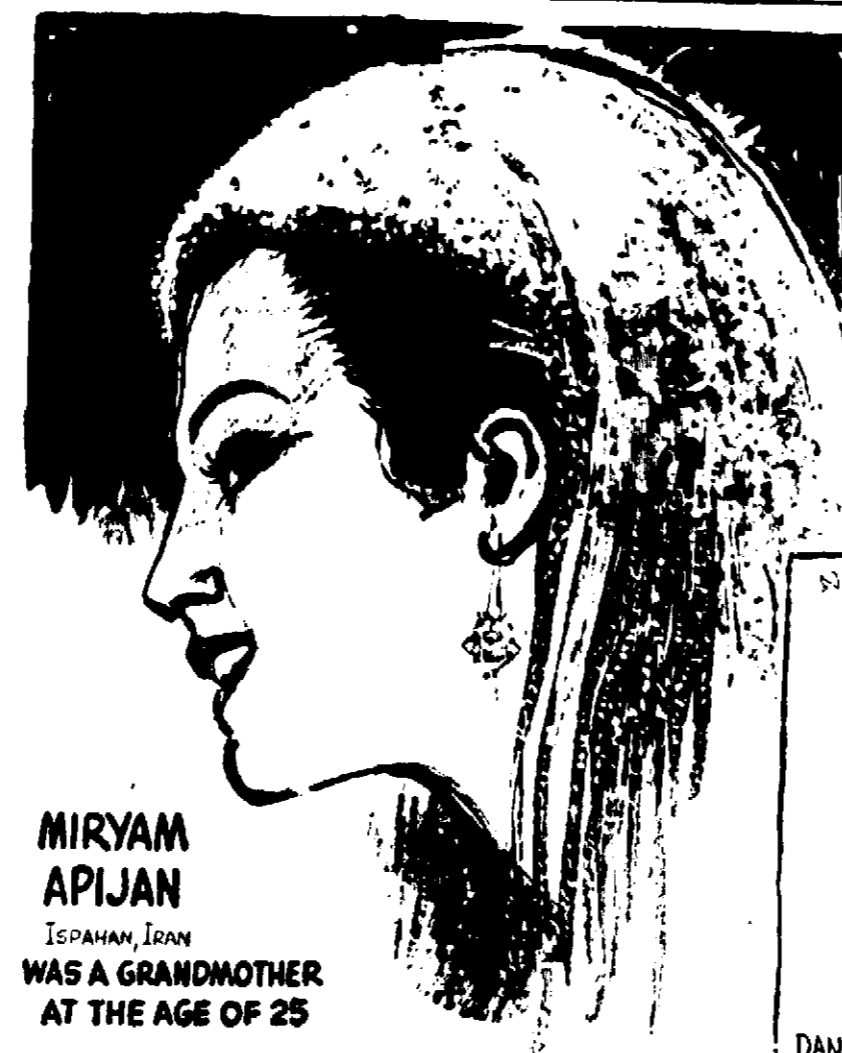

Spivak is better known to hep-cats and jive-diggers as the man who can play the sweetest trumpet in the world. He has played in New York, Chicago, Hollywood and other places. There will be four shows so you folks who can't make the afternoon shows, you'll have a chance in the evening.

What is to face our fighting men when once more they come home? No, this time it will be different, we hope. To see the plans of the different civic groups who hope to keep the returning veterans from having to sell apples for a living, see "My Buddy" now playing at the Quilna theatre.

The Germans are planning a World War III with no reservations. It will be an all-out affair and the Germans think that they will have the upper hand. What is done to guard against such an outbreak can be seen in "The Master Race," which is now showing at the Sigma.

Impressing is the picture which opens Sunday at the State theatre. A story of the heroic Chinese people is wonderfully portrayed in a stirring picture, "Dragon Seed" opening Sunday at the State theatre.

Violinist To Be Soloist On Boston Symphony Airing

Dr. Serge Koussevitzky and the Boston Symphony orchestra, on Saturday, from 7:30 to 8:30 p. m., Lima time, over WJZ, commemorate the 110th anniversary of the first performance in Paris of Berlioz' "Harold in Italy" symphony. William Primrose, noted violinist and leader of the Primrose quartet, will be the soloist. For his opening number, Dr. Koussevitzky has selected "Poco, a Merry Overture" by Ernest Toch, contemporary Viennese composer, now living in Los Angeles.

Effervescent Billie Burke, star of stage and screen, is set to announce her triumph over politics when she fulfills the engagement—originally scheduled a few weeks ago but cancelled because of a major political broadcast—on the Barry Wood-Paisy Kelly

MAN AND HIS DOG GO TO THE PICTURES

WATERLOO, Ia., Oct. 11 (UP)—Ordinarily neither blind men nor dogs "see" a motion picture.

But at Waterloo, Ia., recently both a blind man and a dog saw "Going My Way." The blind man, G. W. Day of Cedar Rapids, Ia., asked if he could take his seeing-eye dog into the theatre and was seated as the guest of the manager. When Day said his dog liked popcorn, the manager brought some.

Day considered the event "one of the biggest thrills" he's had since losing his sight.

IN ARMY NINE YEARS
HARRISBURG, Pa. (UP)—Sgt. William H. Marston, 24, of Pottsville, N. D., who is stationed at the local Railway Transportation Corps camp, claims the unique record of being the youngest man in the U. S. Army with nine years of military service. His initial attempt to enlist at Fort McDowell, N. D., when he was 14, was unsuccessful, but the next year Marston entered the service in Santa Barbara, Cal., by falsifying his age. Army records list him three years older than he actually is.

Marston growing started in the United States in 1919 when a group of Irish Presbyterians founded the town of Londonderry, N. H., and began to grow a crop.

SOLDIER FINDS MISSING SAILOR FOR FRENCH WIFE

NEW YORK, Oct. 11 (INS)—Another link of friendship between the Americans and the French was welded recently by a kind act of Pvt. Gilbert Acheson, of Brooklyn, stationed "somewhere in France."

Acheson was introduced to Mrs. Deone Reignard, who told him that her husband, Marcel, formerly an officer on the liner Normandie, had not been heard from since he escaped German-occupied France in 1941.

The police wrote to the New York Police department, asking if the Frenchman could be located. The Missing Persons Bureau contacted the French Naval Mission in New York and was informed that a Lieut. Marcel Reignard was on duty with a French merchant ship at sea. The police asked that the officer contact them on his return.

He did, and since then has written to his wife and to Pvt. Acheson. He had sent several letters to his wife, he said, and could not understand why she had not received them.
