Sparkling Comedy At Tops In "Bride By Mistake" Film

Sparkling comedy and brilliant performance highlight the rollicking comedy "Bride by Mistake" starring Alan Marshal and Larraine Day and opening Thursday at the State theatre.

The story depicts an heiress, Larraine Day, who in order to elude fortune hunters and newspaper publicity, has her best friend impersonate her at all public gatherings. In the end all the hilarity is added up to make one of the funniest movies, ever to reach Lima. The human side of America is shown in "Since You Went Away" now playing at the Ohio theatre, The people who must wait for the fighting men to come home, in a way, have a harder job than those who en go out and use their energy in suppressing the enemy. Richard Dix, for a long time in the background of the motion pictures, has now come back into the light and is thrilling audiences with the series of stirring episodes taken from the now famous radio program "The Whistler." "The Mark of the Whistler" now showing at the Quilna theatre is one of these air programs.

"Lost in a Harem" with Bud Abbott and Lou Costello is a picture which might be termed "a bit on the hilarious side." Truly, these two comedians are bait for a good sanitarium, in fact, after you have seen this hilarious show, you'll wonder about yourself.

Red Ryder has come to the screen of the Lyric theatre with his little Indian pal, Little Beaver. In the movie "Marshall of Reno" these two get together and round up the toughest bunch of outlaws ever to be found in the west.
