

Two Comedy Movies Held Over By Sigma Theatre

Movie-goers of Lima are going to have the chance to see two stand-out pictures again. The Sigma theatre is holding over "The Great Moment" with Joel McCrea and Betty Fields and "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay" with Diana Lynn and Gail Russell. Destined to go down in movie history as a pair of the funniest things this side of laughing gas, these movies are being held over by popular request.

In a case like the one in "Casanova Brown" you'd probably do the same thing. If the fact remains that you do not know what happened the best thing to do is to see the picture and find out. See "Casanova Brown" now showing at the Ohio theatre.

Tho it's hard to believe that anyone in his right mind would turn a friend over to the Germans it's being done every day and you'll also find this very same principle in "The Conspirators" now showing at the State theatre.

"There's Something About a Soldier" that is fine, fine, fine. Yes, that's part of a song—the song you will be singing after you have seen the movie of the same name now playing at the Lyric theatre.

LEINSDORF RENAMED ORCHESTRA LEADER

CLEVELAND, Dec. 12—(AP)—Frich Leinsdorf, 32, will conduct the Cleveland orchestra for the 1945-46 season.

Signing of Leinsdorf was announced last night by trustees of the Musical Arts Assn., sponsor of the orchestra. Leinsdorf, who became conductor at the start of the 1943-44 season, was inducted into the Army last Jan. 1 and honorably discharged Sept. 7. He was unable to serve as conductor for the current season, however, because of guest conductor commitments.

The loudest noise the world has ever heard is believed to have been the eruption of the volcano Krakatoa in 1883, heard 3,000 miles away.

"We've got to be good—there's a fellow in our outfit who writes history books!"

HOUE EJECTED AS MONTREAL CHIEF 5TH TIME

MONTREAL, Dec. 12—(UP)—Elected mayor of Montreal for the fifth time, Camilien Houe, 54, today resumed a political career interrupted by four years' federal internment on a charge of obstructing Canada's mobilization of manpower for war.

Houe was victor by 11,000 votes over Mayor Adhemar Raynault with virtually all polls accounted for. His election was regarded in some quarters as an endorsement by French-speaking, anti-conscriptionist voters of his earlier stand on the national draft. Houe was leader of the Quebec Conservative party in the provincial legislature from 1929 to 1931 and had finished his last term in the provincial house when, in 1940, he spoke publicly against national registration.

Canada was preparing for war at the time and Houe was ordered interned in a Frederickton, N. B., camp along with German, Italian and other internees. He remained in custody from August, 1940, until August, 1944.

HEROES ARE MADE—NOT BORN

FAMILY GI'S POSE PROBLEMS FOR COLLEGES

DES MOINES, Ia., Dec. 12—(UP)—Housing of GI Joe and GI Janes when they trade their barracks bags for blazers and suitcases for skirts and sweaters will present a major problem to America's educational institutions.

Thousands of World War II servicemen probably will return to college after the peace is signed. And when they do, they will bring not only their books and lunches, but also their wives.

President Virgil Hancher of the Iowa State university says the large increment of returning soldiers to the country's colleges will present an immense housing problem on many campuses.

Prowar accommodations for students were almost entirely designed for single men and women, but it now appears that housing accommodations for married persons will have to be established.

"Provision for housing cannot be escaped," Hancher said, "and is one of the problems which must have first consideration." Since it will be more than a year or two before additional housing facilities would be ready for occupancy, Hancher pointed out, it will be necessary for both college and community to give those study and thought to the kind and extent of housing accommodation necessary. He suggested that such additional housing facilities might well be a part of a public works program.

The general opinion of college and university administrators in Iowa is that an increase of approximately 25 per cent in student body above the highest prewar figure may be expected as the peak load in the immediate post-war years.

"It is likely that a very considerable number of veterans returning to colleges and universities, and to vocational-technical training, will be married and some no doubt, have started or achieved families," Hancher said.

These collegiate families will need a supply of cheap but rather good houses. Smaller communities will find the problem a more serious one than the larger cities. The Iowa university president viewed as "rather appalling" the prospect of young couples having to live in basements, garrets and converted store buildings. A suggestion made by Prof. P. H. Elwood of Iowa State college, recommended that large quantities of the government's demountable houses may be obtained in such situations.

Lonely Girl In Manhattan Meets Soldier In The Rain

A lonely girl in Manhattan who meets a soldier in a spring cold storm is the heroine of Ben Hecht's "Miracle in the Rain," which is dramatized on "This Is My Best" on Tuesday at 8:30 p. m., Lima times over Station WABC. The girl and the GI fall in love, but their happiness is cut short when the war separates them. The eventually lost soldier is killed in action in the Pacific, the girl's faith in his return remains unshaken.

Scatter-brained, flutery Billie Burke will heed Milton Berle's call of "Let Yourself Go" on Tuesday at 9:30 p. m. over Station WJZ. In addition to trading quips with Emcee Berle, Miss Burke has promised to reveal her secret ambition and, gentleman that he is, Milton will assist her in fulfilling her innermost wish. Ray Bloch and his "Let Yourself Go" orchestra provide the music.

Note: This is Berle's last broadcast over WJZ before he switches to WABC on Wednesday, starting Dec. 20.

FILIPINO CHIEF ENDORSES FREE PRESS PROGRAM

TACLOBAN, Leyte, Dec. 12—(UP)—President Sergio Osmeña of the Philippines today endorsed the four-point program of post-war freedom of news proposed by Hugh Baillie, president of The United Press.

"I am strongly in favor of keeping the avenues of information open and also making transmission facilities available to all," Osmeña said.

"I am fully in accord with Baillie's four-point program and foresee a world free press as a powerful weapon in preventing future wars," he said.

The program proposed by Baillie calls for: 1—New sources, particularly official sources, competitively open to all.

2—Transmission facilities competitively available to all.

3—A minimum of official regulation of the flow of news itself.

4—All newspapers throughout the world to have access to all possible sources of news.

In commenting on the program, Osmeña recalled that before the war the Philippines was the last country without a dictatorship in the Far East and the last to have a free press.

During the last three years, he pointed out, the Filipino underground defied the Japanese-controlled press program thru the publication of numerous patriot papers. The editors of some of the papers were captured by the Japanese and killed, Osmeña said.

In the Belgian Congo, any Congolese Negro may practice any vocation and rise to any position, according to his abilities and choice.

FORMER JUDGE DIES
MOUNT VERNON, O., Dec. 12—(AP)—Barton M. Critchfield, 84, former Knox-co probate judge, died yesterday. He was active in harness racing as a driver-owner for many years.

NELSON IN NEW ZEALAND
WELLINGTON, N. Z., Dec. 12—(UP)—Donald M. Nelson, personal representative of President Roosevelt, arrived today for a brief visit and conferred with Prime Minister Peter Fraser.

BELLAIRE MINERS CONCLUDE STRIKE
Bellaire, O., Dec. 12—(AP)—Idle miners returned to their jobs today at the Rail and River Mine No. 6, ending a strike called Wednesday in protest against removal by the company of a fan attendant.

THE MEN VOTED TO RETURN TO WORK
last night, said William Kennedy, a representative of the United Mine Workers of America, after a committee of miners inspected the unattended fan, and decided that it didn't jeopardize their safety. (Approximately 400 men were affected by the walkout.)
