Division 40 Graduation Will Be Tuesday

The naval training schools (radio) program at the University of Wisconsin has been lengthened from 19 weeks to 20 weeks, it was announced by Capt. L. K. Pollard, commanding officer of the school. Because of this extension, Division 40 which was originally scheduled to graduate Dec. 18 will have its graduation exercises on Tuesday. Atty. William Ryan will be the guest speaker. With the lengthening of the course, the complement of the training school will be increased to more than 1,600 men.

Division 40, composed of 73 graduates has as its honor man, Kenneth Franklin Young, 25, of Kansas City, Mo., who graduated with an average of 98.2, out of a possible 99. Charles W. Mollett, Jr., 25, of Mount Victory, O., will give the closing address as representative of his class.

Capt. Pollard will introduce Ryan. He will be followed by Lieut. Lonnie Coker, training officer who will present the certificate to the graduating class. Lieut. R. M. Weikart, navy chaplain, will give the invocation.

Among the 73 graduates, 11 are from Wisconsin. They are as follows: Albert William Ellis, Monroe, who finished second highest in the class; Walter Robert Bauman, Middleton; Iver Orin Ebert, Watertown; Robert Hoffman, Maiden Rocks; Edwin Henry Hafemeister, Milwaukee; Francis James McDougal, Oconto; Mead Herbert Madsen, Phelps; Robert George Siegel, Clintonville; George Edward Walz, Eastman; DuWayne Edward Wilken, Clintonville; and Daniel Werrell, Janesville.

Mrs. Friedland Hurt in Car Accident

Mrs. R. M. Friedland, 415 W. Wilson st., suffered a forehead cut in an automobile accident Saturday at the intersection of Vilas ave. and S. Brooks st., police reported.

The injured woman was treated at a Madison hospital and released. The accident happened when a car driven by Mrs. Friedland's husband was struck on the left side and knocked against a light pole by an automobile owned by R. Christensen, Route 3. Police said the driver's name was unknown because he left while Friedland took his wife to the hospital and before officers arrived.

Friedland was driving east on Vilas and the second car was going south on Brooks.

Swiss Admit 95,000 Refugees

WASHINGTON—(U.P.)—The Swiss legation announced Saturday that about 95,000 refugees of 21 different nationalities, including 1,500 American fliers forced down after bombing raids on Germany, have been admitted to Switzerland from the beginning of the war to Oct. 1.

Crawford's 'Porgy and Bess' to Be Given Here Jan. 15-17

ETTA MOTEN (left), AVON LONG (center), who play Bess and Sportin' Life in Cheryll Crawford's "Porgy and Bess" production, are shown here singing "There's a Boat That's Leaving Soon for New York" from the Negro musical success.

The Cheryll Crawford production of George Gershwin and Du Bose Heyward's Negro opera "Porgy and Bess" will have performances at the Wisconsin Union theater on Jan. 15, 16, and 17 with almost all its original New York cast intact, it has been announced by Jerry Wulk, chairman of the Union theater committee.

Mail orders will be accepted starting Tuesday. If tickets remain after all mail orders are filled, there will be an open box office sale starting Jan. 8.

Gable's Movie About Fort May Be Bond Show

WASHINGTON—(U.P.)—Come January and maybe you'll buy a bond to listen to Gable.

Gable will be heard in "Combat America," a picture which won't be shown at your neighborhood theater. He produced it for Gen. H. H. Arnold, and the Office of War Information (OWI) and treasury are about to make it available to "non-theatrical groups" to spur sale of war bonds between the sixth and seventh war loan drives.

"Combat America" is a technicolor trip for civilians into war stories of the year when St. Nazaire, L'Orient, Rouen were major bombing targets.

The story begins at an airfield in Colorado, where the Gable voice introduces a Flying Fortress, its pilot, and its crew. Camera and Gable follow them through the skies to England.

"Combat America" ends, months afterwards, with their first run to Berlin. The film shows a sky battle between Forts and German fighters in which a number of the big bombers are shot down.

RARE LETTERS TO LIBRARY
FT. WAYNE, Ind.—(U.P.)—The library of Indiana university purchased the personal papers and library of Hugh McCulloch, Ft. Wayne lawyer and banker who served as secretary of treasury under Abraham Lincoln and Chester A. Arthur. Included in the papers are letters from Lincoln, Arthur, Gen. Sherman and many other prominent figures in the Civil war period.

Winter Sports Books Offered

Skiers, Skaters Can Get Pointers

For those who find new skies under the Christmas tree, and for the fortunate few who received skates, the Madison Free library has arranged a display directing them to books which will improve their skills, whether they are beginners or old hands at two of Madison's favorite sports.

"Learn to Ski" by Herman Bautzmann is recommended for the beginner while "Skiing" by Robert Proctor, and "Improve Your Skiing" by Frederick Hall, will be useful to those who are ready for more advanced instruction. "60 Centuries of Skiing," by Charles Dudley, provides interesting background reading.

Special aspects of the sport are described in "High-Speed Skiing," by Peter Lund, international racer, and in "Parallel Skiing," by E. Fritz Looati. Specific advice on body position, traversing, types of turns, speed problems, training, care of skis and racing rules are given by Linn. "Parallel Skiing" is a practical handbook with many photographs illustrating techniques ranging from elementary positions to the parallel Christiania turn. Deep snow skiing, side-slipping, and skating on skis are also described in text and picture.

Books at the city library help the novice skater to analyze his mistakes. "Modern Skating," by Frederic Lewis, former amateur figure skating champion of the United States, starts off with "Choosing Equipment," "Conditioning," and "Just Skating," as the opening chapters, but goes on to "Special Figures," "Dancing on Ice," and "Speed Skating."

A recent addition to the winter sports collection is "Pair Skating and Dancing on Ice" by Robert Dench and Rosemarie Stewart, illustrated with instructional diagrams and action photographs which reduce the "Axel Paulson" and "forward change-camel spin" to "stills" for analysis for the aspiring reader. "Figure Skating as a Hobby," by Diane Cummings, and "Hockey, Fastest Game on Earth," by Mervyn "Red" Dutton, based on his experiences as manager for the New York Americans, are among other practical books on skating, while "Wings on My Feet," Sonja Henie's autobiography, offers vicarious experience to the armchair sportsman as well.

One of the most popular books on winter sports at the city library is "Wings on Ice: A Comprehensive View of the Sport of Ice Boating," by Frederick M. Gardner, which discusses such topics as early boat designs, types and characteristics, handling, racing, fundamentals of design, plans, specifications, care and maintenance. Rules and organizations and a glossary of terms are included in an appendix. "The Dartmouth Book of Winter Sports," by Harold Putnam, has chapters on both skiing and skating.

"Dec. 25, 1667. Being a fine, light, moonshine morning, home round the city, and stopped and dropped money at five or six places, which I was the wiliager to do, it being Christmas-day, and so home, and there find my wife in bed, and Jane and the maid making pyes. So I to bed. Rose about nine, a nd to church, and there heard a dull sermon of Mr. Mills, but a great many fine people at church; and so home. Wife and girl and I alone at dinner—a good Christmas dinner. My wife reading to me 'The History of the Drummer of Mr. Mompersson,' which is a strange story of spies, a nd worth reading indeed."—From Samuel Pepys' Diary?
