

Work Or Fight Order Will Be Given Airing Thursday

President Franklin D. Roosevelt's demand that congress meet the manpower crisis by enacting a work-or-fight law, will be debated, when "America's Town Meeting" discusses the question, "Should Congress Pass a Work-or-Fight Bill?" in the broadcast Thursday, at 7:30 p. m., over Station WJZ.

Speaking in support of the President's position will be Maury Maverick, former Democratic congressman from Texas, now chairman of the Smaller War Plants Corp., and Rep. John J. Sparkman (D-Ala.), member of the House Military Affairs committee. Lewis W. Hines, head of the representative of the American Federation of Labor, and another prominent expert will speak for the negative.
