Strength with Congress

WASHINGTON — (U.P.) — CIO Pres. Philip Murray says the CIO is "disillusioned" with the conduct of congress since the November election and it is ready to make The Albion, known as "the first coal-burning locomotive in Canathe 1946 congressional election the crucial test of strength for its Political Action Committee.

Writing in the current issue of the CIO United Auto Workers publication, "Ammunition," Mur-ray said the next congressional the engineer obeyed his signals. With the passing of time, it came to be the rule with railways in general that the conductor should have the chief rank as Workers contests would give local Political Action Committees opportunities
